Dance Words Valerie Preston-Dunlop,2016-01-28 In her unique collection of the verbal language of dance practitioners and researchers Valerie Preston Dunlop presents a comprehensive view of people in dance what they do their movement their sound and the space in which they work from the standpoint of the performers choreographers audiences administrators and teachers The words and phrases of their technical and vernacular languages which are used to communicate what is essentially a non verbal activity have been collected in rehearsal classes and workshops by interviews and from published sources In this first collection of its kind Valerie Preston Dunlop extends her selection of verbal language to include the various social and theatrical domains of dance Dictionary of Dance Susan Macpherson,1996 Rumanian Folk Music Bela Bartok,2012-12-06 n several of his writings on folk music Bela Bartok recalls an incident that happened to him in 1904 during a visit to a small village in Transylvania Quite by chance he heard there an eighteen year old Hungarian peasant girl singing Hungarian folk songs whose construction was significantly different from the songs he had known until then This experience appealed to his imagination far deeper than chance occurrences usually do It sparked in him a creative fire that was there after to impart to his music certain characteristics that are recognizable today as indigenous to the Bartokian style of composition The inspirational value of the incident was rekindled by return trips to Transylvania During these trips he was not merely listening He began notating melodies building them into a coordinated collection Soon Bartok's itinerary took him into villages populated in checkered proximity by both Hungarians and Rumanians thence into little communities where the population was exclusively Rumanian There he discovered that their songs were much less if at all influenced by the urban civilization of Western Europe than those he had collected in Hungarian villages In an interview he gave to a Transylvanian newspaper in 1922 Bartok described the difference between the available Hungarian and Rumanian songs
