Analytical Chemistry in Space Richard E. Wainerdi, 2013-10-22 Analytical Chemistry in Space presents an analysis of the chemical constitution of space particularly the particles in the solar wind of the planetary atmospheres and the surfaces of the moon and planets Topics range from space engineering considerations to solar system atmospheres and recovered extraterrestrial materials Mass spectroscopy in space exploration is also discussed along with lunar and planetary surface analysis using neutron inelastic scattering This book is comprised of seven chapters and opens with a discussion on the possibilities for exploration of the solar system by mass spectroscopy with particular reference to analysis of compositional data on solar system objects such as the Earth and meteorites asteroids comets and interplanetary dust The reader is then introduced to the project administration instrument design and spacecraft integration problems that must be solved to successfully fly a space experiment The following chapters focus on the atmospheres of the sun and planets the use of mass spectroscopy in solar system exploration and of neutron inelastic scattering in lunar and planetary surface analysis and extraterrestrial in situ 14 MeV neutron activation analysis The final chapter is devoted to the advantages and applications of thermal neutron activation to the analysis of certain samples of geological interest This monograph will be a useful resource for analytical chemists and space scientists

Chemistry of Space Manas Korrapati, 2017-10 Astronomy space science and astrophysics allow us to see the universe and our place in it Through studying these subjects mankind has continually enlarged its horizons and explored the cosmos The subjects continually evolve and change every year based on discoveries by researchers around the world Space science is very often associated with physics Physicists have been asking questions about the origins of the universe and using their specialized knowledge to make educated guesses about the past the present and the future The study of chemistry includes finding out about atoms molecules and chemical reactions Elements are made up of atoms of one kind Atoms of elements can react to form molecules sometimes of the same element for example Cl<sub>2</sub> or sometimes with different elements forming compounds for example HCl Bonds form between the different atoms these can be covalent or ionic depending on the atoms involved An element is made up of the same particles sometimes the atoms are different isotopes wherever it is found iron Fe is iron whether you find it on Earth or in space but conditions in space are different from those on Earth and different reactions may occur Reactions of elements to form more complex compounds such as amino acids are important to the study of chemistry in space Atoms and molecules are pretty much everywhere From the iron heavy center of Earth to the hydrogen rich envelope of distant stars nuclei and their attendant electrons are ubiquitous It makes sense then that astronomers would want to sort out what atoms and molecules make up which astronomical objects and swim in the space between them But they cannot just reach out grab a hunk of star and bring it back to the lab They must do the analysis remotely and as always in astronomy using only light that telescopes passively receive Chemistry of Space discusses current research and advances in the field of space chemistry including the origins of the universe the chemical composition of planets and meteors and stellar evolution It looks at the way that the Earths present atmosphere has evolved from possible earlier atmospheres Some of the available evidence for different scenarios is presented and critically discussed Chemistry in Space Jacobus Henricus Hoff,1891 Chemistry in Space Research Robert F.
