Development, Regeneration and Plasticity of the Autonomic Nervous System George Hendry,C.E. Hill,2024-11-01

Each volume in the Autonomic Nervous System series deals with a different area of autonomic control in health and disease

This the second volume provides an overview on the nature of the factors that exert constraints on the differentiation and maturation of the autonomic nervous system Subjects covered include development of autonomic neurones molecules affecting nerve growth and survival regeneration after injury and the degree to which the wiring of the nervous system is rigid or fixed Airways Smooth Muscle: Development, and Regulation of Contractility David Raeburn,Mark A.

Giembycz,2013-03-08 Most studies on autonomic innervation of smooth muscle have focused on the short term mechanisms involved in neurotransmission in physiological and pathophysiological conditions However recent obser vations of the long term plasticity of this system i e its capacity for regeneration and for compensatory change in pattern of innervation and expression of cotransmitters and receptors in ageing following surgery trauma or in disease have indicated that an understanding of the mechanisms involved could influence the design of therapeutic regimes There is increasing evidence for long term communication between nerves and smooth muscle cells during development and throughout adult life To date the trophic interactions between nerves and airway musculature have attracted little interest consequently much of the information presented here is drawn from studies using other smooth muscles However the questions posed about trophic interactions dur ing development apply as much to airways smooth muscle neuroeffector systems as to other autonomic neuroeffector systems These are i How do developing nerve fibres know where to go and how do they reach their target sites ii What determines the density and pattern of inner vation at reaching the effector iii How do the nerves survive and maintain their position once established iv What factors influence neurochemical differentiation such that genetically multipotential neu rones are triggered to synthesize one or combinations of neurotransmit ters v What influence do nerves have on the structure function and receptor expression of their effector cells vi How do diseases interrupt these processes see 1

Handbook of the Autonomic Nervous System in Health and Disease Liana Bolis,Julio Licinio,Stefano

R. Squire,2009-06-12 The Encyclopedia of the Neuroscience explores all areas of the discipline in its focused entries on a wide variety of topics in neurology neurosurgery psychiatry and other related areas of neuroscience Each article is written by an expert in that specific domain and peer reviewed by the advisory board before acceptance into the encyclopedia Each article contains a glossary introduction a reference section and cross references to other related encyclopedia articles Written at a level suitable for university undergraduates the breadth and depth of coverage will appeal beyond undergraduates to professionals and academics in related fields Developmental Neurobiology Greg Lemke,2010-05-22 Developmental Neuroscience is one of the six core disciplines in Neuroscience and yet no single volume non textbook reference exists on the market that provides researchers with more in depth high level information on developmental neurobiology Currently anyone interested in the field at a higher level must sift through review articles published frequently and the more specific handbooks that focus on aspects of development rather than the field as a whole This reference is the first of its kind to fill this need It pulls together the relevant articles on the topic from the 10 volume Encyclopedia of Neuroscience Academic Press 2008 and serves as an affordable and immediate resource for scientists postdocs graduate students with an interest beyond the basic textbook materials on the subject The first and only comprehensive single volume reference for developmental neuroscience that goes beyond the basic textbook information The 93 chapters cover topics ranging from cell fate determination path finding synapse generation neural stem cells to neurodegeneration and regeneration carefully selected from the Encyclopedia of Neuroscience by one of the great developmental neuroscientists Greg Lemke The best researchers in the field provide their conclusions in the context of the latest experimental results

Chemical Factors in Neural Growth, Degeneration and Repair C. Bell,1996-12-17 This volume provides an up to date survey of current thinking concerning the actions of chemical factors in the regulation of neuronal behaviour under normal and pathological conditions The book is divided into four sections dealing with chemical factors involved with the formation of axon pathways factors involved with neuronal survival and specialization during normal development factors involved in normal maintenance and repair of adult neurons and finally factors that have been implicated as mediators of degenerative changes in neurological and neuropsychiatric disorders International Journal of Developmental Neuroscience ,1995 The Journal of Neuroscience ,1994 Research Awards Index ,1981 Neuroendocrinology ,1992 Society for Neuroscience Abstracts Society for Neuroscience.
