view of such an undertaking he was compelled to give the instruction in an oral Socratic conversational manner using books only for occasional reference The time has now come as it seems to him for reducing this work to written form with a view to economizing the time of future pupils and in the hope that it may serve a useful purpose to young teachers in their daily work or as members of circles for professional reading and study The peculiar form and arrangement given to the matter of this book are thus the outgrowth of long experience and direct contact with students as yet unused to introspection or to abstract thought The writer as a teacher has sought continually to find the natural methods of approach and the natural lines of progress in the development of a pedagogical attitude of mind without too much regard to traditional modes and yet with a careful avoidance of eccentricity or intentional novelty Clearness and conciseness have been a constant aim It is believed that the book is well suited as a text book in either theory of teaching or elementary psychology Preface PsycINFO Database Record c 2013 APA all rights reserved Developmental Psychology Robert V.
