Make this book a part of your professional teaching collection today. Aging A-Z Carroll L. Estes, with Nicholas B. DiCarlo, 2019-04-10. This provocative, intellectually charged treatise serves as a concise introduction to emancipatory gerontology, examining multiple dimensions of persistent and hotly debated topics around aging: the life course, the roles of power, politics, and partisanship, culture, economics, and communications. Critical perspectives are presented as definitions for reader understanding, with links to concepts of identity, knowledge construction, social networks, social movements, and inequalities. With today's intensifying concentration of wealth and corporatization, precarity is the fate for growing numbers of the world's population. Intersectionality as an analytic concept offers a new appreciation of how social advantage and disadvantage accumulate and how constructions of race, ethnicity, class, ability, and gender influence aging. The book's entries offer a bibliographic compendium, crediting the salience of early pioneering theorists and locating these within the cutting edge of research, social, behavioral, policy, and gene-environment sciences that currently advances our understandings of human development, trauma, and resilience. Accompanying these foundations are theories of resistance for advancing human rights and the dignity of marginalized populations.

Social Citizenship in an Age of Welfare Regionalism Mark Simpson, 2022-06-30. This book presents a socio-legal examination of national and devolved level developments in social protection in the UK through the eyes of politicians and officials at the heart of this process. Since its inception in 1998, devolution has altered the character of the UK welfare state with dramatic change in the 10 years since 2010. A decade of austerity at national level has exposed diverging views in how governments in London, Edinburgh, and Belfast view the social rights of citizenship. This political divide has implications for both social security law as the devolved countries begin to flex their muscles in this key area for citizens' economic welfare and the constitutional settlement. The book reflects on the impact of austerity, the referendum on Scottish independence, and subsequent changes to the devolution settlement. Northern Ireland's hesitant moves away from parity with Westminster in social protection, withdrawal from the European Union, Brexit, and the possible retreat from austerity during the COVID-19 pandemic. The social union may or may not be weakening; its character is unquestionably changing, and the book lays bare the ideological and pragmatic considerations driving legal developments. TH Marshall's theory of citizenship provides the lens through which these processes are viewed while itself being reinterpreted in light of the national government's increasing delegation of responsibility for social rights whether to individuals the voluntary sector or lower tiers of government Teaching about Aging Dena Shenk, Jay Sokolovsky, 1999 Successful Aging Through the Life Span May L.
