Diachrony In Psychoanalysis:

Diachrony in Psychoanalysis André Green, 2003 The question of diachrony has been an outgoing preoccupation of Andre Green throughout his psychoanalytic career It was at the center of the debates during the era of structuralism and opened up a range of issues for psychoanalysis These included the question of primal experience phantasies and key signifiers Lacan and repetition discovered belatedly by Freud but destined to play a major role Recollection a central theme in the early days of psychoanalysis is now seen in the context of its relation to repetition compulsion The memories to be rediscovered during treatment are less important than the signs of temporality involved The illusion of completely lifting infantile amnesia has given way to constructions in analysis Historical truth which is based on the beliefs organizing the psyche is contrasted with material truth stripped of any embellishment

On Boredom Rye Dag Holmboe , Susan Morris , 2021-04-22 What do we mean when we say that we are bored Or when we find a subject boring Contributors to On Boredom Essays in art and writing which include artists art historians psychoanalysts and a novelist examine boredom in its manifold and uncertain reality Each part of the book takes up a crucial moment in the history of boredom and presents it in a new light taking the reader from the trials of the consulting room to the experience of hysteria in the nineteenth century The book pays particular attention to boredom s relationship with the sudden and rapid advances in technology that have occurred in recent decades specifically technologies of communication surveillance and automation On Boredom is idiosyncratic for its combination of image and text and the artworks included in its pages by Mathew Hale Martin Creed and Susan Morris help turn this volume into a material expression of boredom itself With other contributions from Josh Cohen Briony Fer Anouchka Grose Rye Dag Holmboe Margaret Iversen Tom McCarthy and Michael Newman the book will appeal to readers in the fields of art history literature cultural studies and visual culture from undergraduate students to professional artists working in new media

Psychoanalysis André Green, 2005 Thought inhabits diverse fields of activity It can be philosophical scientific or religious But unless it renounces the theoretical exigency underlying it it cannot invest the domain of clinical work How should the mode of rationality arising from psychoanalytic practice be qualified How is the work of thought involved in the experience of the treatment to be accounted for In this book now back in print Andre Green shows how it is possible to introduce the concept of clinical thinking into psychoanalysis Postulating modifications to the clinical pictures on which Freud s work was constructed the author contributes innovations and answers that the father of psychoanalysis could not have foreseen

Kristeva Stacey Keltner, 2013-05-03 Julia Kristeva is one of the most creative and prolific writers to address the personal social and political trials of our times Linguist psychoanalyst social and cultural theorist and novelist Kristeva s broad interdisciplinary appeal has impacted areas across the humanities and social sciences S K Keltner s book provides the first comprehensive introduction to the breadth of Kristeva s work In an original and insightful analysis Keltner presents Kristeva s thought as the coherent development and elaboration of a complex multidimensional threshold constitutive of meaning and subjectivity The threshold indicates Kristeva's primary sphere of concern the relationship between the speaking being and its particular social and historical conditions and Kristeva's interdisciplinary approach Kristeva's vision Keltner argues opens a unique perspective within contemporary discourses attentive to issues of meaning subjectivity and social and political life By emphasizing Kristeva's attention to the permeable borders of psychic and social life Keltner offers innovative readings of the concepts most widely discussed in Kristeva scholarship the semiotic and symbolic abjection love and loss She also provides new interpretations of some of the most controversial issues surrounding Kristeva's work including Kristeva's conceptions of intimacy social and cultural difference and Oedipal subjectivity by contextualizing them within her methodological approach and oeuvre as a whole Julia Kristeva Thresholds is an engaging and accessible introduction to Kristeva's theoretical and fictional works that will be of interest to both students and scholars across the humanities and social sciences Confusion of Tongues Miguel Gutierrez-Pelaez, 2018-03-15 Sandor Ferenczi Sigmund Freud's brilliant pupil as well as an innovative psychoanalyst was silenced by various generations of his contemporaries until in the past decades his work began to be rediscovered Certain aspects of his trauma theory in fact had never been thoroughly addressed particularly the connection he made between trauma and language Miguel Gutierrez Pelaez offers a new reading of Ferenczi by proposing a dialogue between the Hungarian psychoanalyst's work philosophy and contemporary psychoanalysis Among the subjects covered the book delves into the vulnerability of children and Ferenczi's never ending search for a cure the complex issue of war trauma and more specifically his anticipatory work in understanding the effects on the human psyche of the horrific experiences in concentration camps during World War II These issues are raised against the backdrop of captivating figures like Jacques Lacan Emmanuel Levinas Giorgio Agamben Derrida Nietzsche and Primo Levi among others Questioning Identities Mary Lynne Ellis, Noreen O'Connor, 2018-03-29 This book offers a revision of psychoanalytic theory It highlights how philosophical perspectives on language embodiment time history and conscious unconscious experiences can contribute to clinical interpretations of gender sexuality race age culture and class Epistemontology in Spinoza-Marx-Freud-Lacan A. Kiarina Kordela, 2017-10-06 A Kiarina Kordela steps beyond extant commentaries on Marx's theory of commodity fetishism from A Sohn Rethel to L Althusser Balibar Slavoj Žižek and others to show that in capitalism value is the manifestation of the homology between thought and being while their other aspect power is foreclosed and becomes the object of biopower Using monistic Marxian Lacanian structuralism as an alternative to dominant models from Plato and Kant to phenomenological accounts deconstruction and other contemporary approaches Kordela expertly argues that Marx's theory of commodity fetishism is a reformulation of the Spinozian thesis that thought mind and things bodies or extension are manifestations of one and the same being or substance Kordela's link between Spinoza and Marx shows that being consists of two aspects value and power the former leading to structuralist thought the latter becoming the object of contemporary biopower Epistemontology in Spinoza Marx Freud Lacan intervenes between two dominant lines of thought in the reception of Marx today on the one hand an approach that relates Marxian thought to psychoanalysis from a Hegelian dialectical perspective and on the other hand an approach that links Marxism to Spinozian monism at the total exclusion of psychoanalysis This book will interest scholars and researchers who study Marxism post structuralism psychoanalysis critical theory ontology epistemology and theories of representation theoreticians of cultural studies and comparative literature aesthetic theory including the relation of art to economy and politics and biopolitics

Levinas and the Trauma of Responsibility Cynthia D. Coe, 2018-03-12 Levinas s account of responsibility challenges dominant notions of time autonomy and subjectivity according to Cynthia D Coe Employing the concept of trauma in Levinas s late writings Coe draws together his understanding of time and his claim that responsibility is an obligation to the other that cannot be anticipated or warded off Tracing the broad significance of these ideas Coe shows how Levinas revises our notions of moral agency knowledge and embodiment Her focus on time brings a new interpretive lens to Levinas s work and reflects on a wider discussion of the fragmentation of human experience as an ethical subject Coe s understanding of trauma and time offers a new appreciation of how Levinas can inform debates about gender race mortality and animality
