Devils Chaplain Reflections On Hope Lies:

A Devil's Chaplain Richard Dawkins, 2004 The first collection of essays from renowned scientist and best selling author Richard Dawkins is an enthusiastic declaration a testament to the power of rigorous scientific examination to reveal the wonders of the world In these essays Dawkins revisits the meme the unit of cultural information that he named and wrote about in his groundbreaking work The Selfish Gene Here also are moving tributes to friends and colleagues including a eulogy for novelist Douglas Adams author of The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy correspondence with the evolutionary biologist Stephen Jay Gould and visits with the famed paleoanthropologists Richard and Maeve Leakey at their African wildlife preserve The collection ends with a vivid note to Dawkins's ten year old daughter reminding her to remain curious to ask questions and to live the examined life engages pressing questions that often vex religious believers who wish to engage with the world of science Abraham's Dice Karl W. Giberson, 2016-04-18 Most of us believe everything happens for a reason Whether it is God's will karma or fate we want to believe that nothing in the world especially disasters and tragedies is a random meaningless event But now as never before confident scientific assertions that the world embodies a profound contingency are challenging theological claims that God acts providentially in the world The random and meandering path of evolution is widely used as an argument that God did not create life Abraham's Dice explores the interplay between chance and providence in the monotheistic religious traditions looking at how their interaction has been conceptualized as our understanding of the workings of nature has changed This lively historical conversation has generated intense ongoing theological debates and provocative responses from science what are we to make of the history of our universe where chance and law have played out in complex ways Or the evolution of life where random mutations have challenged attempts to find purpose within evolution and convinced many that human beings are but a glorious accident The enduring belief that everything happens for a reason is examined through a conversation with major scholars among them holders of prestigious chairs at Oxford and Cambridge Universities and the University of Basel as well as several Gifford lecturers and two Templeton prize winners Organized historically Abraham's Dice provides a wide ranging scientific theological and biblical foundation to address the question of providence and divine action in a world shot through with contingency
