A Conversational French Reader for Beginners Henry Bierman, Colman Dudley Frank, 1915      How to Learn French in Canada Victor E Graham, 1965-12-15 It is well known that even after several years exposure to high school French most English Canadians remain unable to speak the language It is equally well known that many French Canadians are bilingual One of the more obvious explanations for this relative deficiency on the part of the English Canadian is his lack of opportunities to use the French language in day to day situations and conversely the French Canadian s need to know the second language too often perhaps for economic reasons Professor Graham s book gives useful and practical suggestions on how to go about becoming fluent in French It offers not a course of instruction but a listing of practical ways of applying oneself to a study of the language There is specific up to date information and advice regarding services provided by the governments of Quebec and France courses offered in various Canadian communities clubs and societies correspondence courses universities and summer schools and language laboratories A feature which will be especially helpful for those in remote areas is the listing of publications books newspapers and periodicals music and songs records films and radio and television programmes which provide instruction in French The reader will quickly see that the available means are much more varied than he realizes and it is in providing this concise convenient enumeration of them that Professor Graham performs a great service Any adult who is reasonably proficient in French but wishes to improve will find this a practical and useful guide to ways of making a personal contribution to bilingualism in Canada This study has been prepared under the sponsorship of the Canadian Association for Adult Education

Do you want to learn French? Learning a new language is actually easier than you may think. This book is divided into four major parts: basic grammar, basic vocabulary for travellers, basic conversational French Dialogues with particular attention to the pronunciation, French Short and easy Stories. First part contains a concise grammar of French organized in the familiar traditional way describing the forms of French in turn. This section should be used for quick reference when you want to know something about a form or structure you can identify. Second part contains the vocabulary terms for travelers or tourists. The vocabulary terms are written taking in consideration the needs of people whose first language is not French. It is organized according to the kinds of words you might want to say in particular situations in French and here you can look up such things as how to apologize, how to ask the time, how to describe a person, etc. Third part is based upon basic French dialogues and sentences which are used in daily routine. It also helps to learn how to pronounce specific terms and words of French language. Fourth part consists of short stories. This part is useful when a person is at least good in French grammar and able to understand the combination of words. These short stories are really helpful to give speed flow in French Language. We have not hesitated to use traditional grammatical terms especially in the first part. It is worth spending a little time getting to grips with these; understanding the terms will help you understand the structures better even if they may appear a bit daunting at first. We hope that readers will find our approach interesting and useful; we will be delighted to receive opinions on the book and details about the ways in which it has been used in teaching and learning French.
