Animal Houses:

Find Out About Animal Homes Martin Jenkins,2022-04-26 Many animals have homes but not all homes are the same From shelters made out of sticks to those made out of stones or even spilt the range of dwellings portrayed in this picture book will fascinate young readers curious about where animals live Provided by publisher Housing of Animals A. Maton,J. Daelemans,J. Lambrecht,2012-12-02 Animal husbandry plays an increasingly important role throughout the world in the fulfillment of the primary need of mankind food The growing demand for food leads to an intensification of the production of livestock and because of the varying climatic conditions in many parts of the world livestock has to be housed in suitable accommodation during certain times of the year This book brings together a descriptive as well as a scientific study of all aspects of the housing of all animals construction of and building materials to be used for the houses and facilities work organisation and labour requirements in different types of animal houses the influence of the animal housing types on animal behaviour animal health and the environment and the cost of building the accommodation This English language edition is a new text of the last edition of the book which was written in Dutch in 1983 A great deal of recent information of international dimension concerning animal husbandry construction and equipment of animal houses has been included in this edition The book has also been updated with the latest scientific and technological findings on this subject published in 1983 and 1984 Agricultural engineers veterinary surgeons architects students progressive farmers and anyone interested in the housing of animals should find much to interest them in this book Environmental Aspects of Housing for Animal Production J. A. Clark,2013-10-22 Environmental Aspects of Housing for Animal Production is concerned with environmental aspects of housing farm animals The discussions are organized around physical and physiological principles environmental influences on reproduction environmental influences on the productivity of farm animals optimal housing environments for temperate and cool climates housing environments for hot climates engineering and control of the house environment and the constraints of welfare and disease This text consists of 32 chapters divided into nine sections The first chapter explores the physiological mechanisms whereby the food or fiber producing animals maintain a constant body temperature under climatic extremes and the possible impact that these physiological processes may have on productive systems This discussion is followed by chapters on the influence of climate on the decision to house livestock the effect of the environment on animal reproduction thermal influences on poultry and the importance of ventilation and temperature control This text also considers the poultry housing problems in tropical and subtropical climates insulation of animal houses and the interaction between feathering and egg production in laying hens This book will appeal to those working in the field of housing for animal production both in research and development and at a practical level Livestock housing Andres Aland,Thomas Banhazi,2023-08-14 Appropriate housing that promotes excellent health and high welfare for different livestock species is an essential aspect of sustainable animal production The appropriate design of livestock buildings is a fast changing and ever improving professional endeavour This book is set out to review the current best practice management in relation to all key design elements of livestock buildings It is important to manage these buildings correctly to generate environmental conditions that will enhance the health and welfare of livestock the health of farm workers and people living near farming operations Livestock housing is written for all those who are involved in managing the health and welfare conditions of housed livestock on commercial farms including farm workers animal scientists veterinarians agricultural engineers and of course students Contributions have been solicited from highly respected specialists from around the world All key areas of housing management are reviewed including feeding watering ventilation and waste management systems Furthermore issues such as the control of emissions role of bedding maintenance of hygiene the management of thermal and aerial environment as well as the use of modern technological tools in the service of livestock management are discussed This book provides a unique forum for leading international experts to convey up to date information to professionals involved in modern animal production

Animal Houses Aileen Fisher,1973 Compares in rhyme the square houses of people to the more rounded dwellings of a variety of animals

Animal Homes Mary Holland,2020 Just like humans animals use their homes for shelter and to raise their young Animal homes might be easy to see or they may be hidden camouflaged for protection Some animals are great builders and other animals borrow homes that other animals have made Different animals might just use natural places like caves or holes in trees to make a home And some animals might even carry their home on their back Sticks mud leaves cotton and grass are all things that animals might use to build a home Whether by digging spinning building or borrowing animal homes are as varied as the animals themselves This is a perfect sequel to Mary Holland s Animal Anatomy and Adaptations series and Control of Organic Sludge and Livestock Farming V.C. Nielsen, J.H. Voorburg, 1986-04-29 An important aspect of the treatment of sludges and slurries is the emission of odour International cooperation in odour control and odour measurement is only possible if the results are comparable For this reason Working Party I of the COST Project 681 established a sub group to study the international development of odour measurement techniques The inventory made by this sub group resulted in a proposal for a workshop on olfactometric measurement in order 1 to exchange experiences with different olfactometers and 2 to consider the possibilities of more harmonised measurement As odour measurement is not a goal in itself but a step on the way to odour control it was decided to combine this workshop with a workshop of the FAO Sub network 2 devoted to reduction of odour in animal farming
