Breaking Up At Totality:

Breaking Up (at) Totality Debra Diane Davis, 2000 Rhetoric and composition theory has shown a renewed interest in sophistic countertraditions as seen in the work of such postphilosophers as Jacques Derrida Michel Foucault and Hélène Cixous and of such rhetoricians as Susan Jarratt and Steven Mailloux As Diane Davis traces today's theoretical interest to those countertraditions she also sets her sights beyond them Davis takes a third sophistic approach one that focuses on the play of language that perpetually disrupts the either/or binary construction of dialectic She concentrates on the nonsequential third excess that overflows language's dichotomies In this work laughter operates as a trope for disruption or breaking up which is from Davis's perspective a joyfully destructive shattering of our confining conceptual frameworks

The Fragment Camelia Elias, 2004 This monograph is an interdisciplinary study of the concept of fragment in literature and in critical and literary theory It discusses the fragment's performativity and function within a historical perspective stretching from Heraclitus via the German Romantics and European writers of the Modernist period to American postmodern manifestations of the fragment This is the first history of the fragment to appear in English and it is also the first attempt at producing a consistent taxonomy of literary and critical fragments The fragments are categorised according to function not author intention and the study addresses a number of questions What constitutes the fragment when the fragment can only be defined a posteriori Does the fragment begin on its own or is it begun by others writers and critics Does it acquire a name of its own or is it labelled by others All these questions revolve around issues of agency and they are best discussed in terms of performativity which means seeing fragments as acts acts of literature acts of reading acts of writing The book demonstrates how a poetics of the fragment as a performative genre can be created situating the fragment both as literature and as a phenomenon within postmodern criticism against the background of philosophy art history and theology

Metaphysica nova et vetusta, a return to dualism, by Scotus Novanticus Simon Somerville Laurie, 1889 Henri Lefebvre: Key Writings Henri Lefebvre, 2006-12-12 Henri Lefebvre is recognised as one of the influential social theorists of the Twentieth Century This book presents a range of Lefebvre's thought It reinforces the centrality of Lefebvre to debates in social and spatial theory but also sets Lefebvre's work in the context of his philosophical and political concerns

Preaching Gospel Charles L. Campbell, Clayton J. Schmit, Mary Hinkle Shore, Jennifer Copeland, 2016-08-30 Teaching preaching like preaching itself is a noble endeavor After nearly four decades of teaching Richard Lischer has sent legions of preachers across the world to preach gospel This volume pays tribute to his faith-filled life of preaching and teaching The contributors some of whom were taught by Lischer have received many laurels themselves so readers will find in these pages wisdom for preaching from many quarters Some authors include sermons with helpful commentary about the preaching exercise some offer essays to illuminate the task of sermon writing all acknowledge the influence of Richard Lischer on their preaching and teaching endeavors Synthetica: book. I. On knowledge Simon Somerville Laurie, 1906 Total Solar

Eclipses and How to Observe Them Martin Mobberley,2007-08-03 To children the world is full of magical events and the line between make believe and reality is happily distinctly blurred However as we all age and have to be realistic earn money become serious and responsible adults yawn and accept that life is short and no one is immortal those magical events fade and die We accept that the worlds of make believe are simply a product of the vivid imaginations of great story tellers and that we are all very similar human beings just slipping away at the tedious day job and hoping for a win on the lottery However there are still a few events which are truly magical and for me total solar eclipses TSEs are about as magical an event as you can ever experience Our Earth and Sun are by a ludicrously lucky coincidence or some would argue by a cosmic architect almost the same apparent size in the sky Thus seventy times a century the Moon's shadow passes over a narrow band on the Earth's surface and for those on the track with clear skies a truly awe inspiring sight can be seen But be warned eclipse chasing is an addictive drug Once you have seen totality you will crave more of the same The sight of an eclipsed Sun is the stuff of science fiction but for the cost of a plane ticket or an organized holiday it can be yours albeit for a few fleeting minutes

The Sociology of Marx Henri Lefebvre,2015-02-18 The crucial importance of Karl Marx's thought for his own time and for ours is beyond dispute but there have always been two considerable impediments to understanding first the supposed complexity with which Marx articulated his ideas second the accretions which commentators disciples and hagiographers have built into the original structure Henri Lefebvre who has held the chair in sociology at Strasbourg and since 1965 in Paris has written an interpretative introduction which restores the clarity of outline and the vigor of the original Lefebvre also demonstrates by ample quotation that Marx far from being the tortuous and intractable stylist we had imagined is a masterful and witty writer But beyond this the reader is presented with a thesis Lefebvre argues that Marx was not a sociologist not an economist not yet an historian or a philosopher On the other hand one can find in his writings a sociology a political economy a theory of history and significant intimations of a philosophy The explanation of this apparent paradox lies in the fact that Marx was writing in a period prior to the compartmentalizing of science when the nature of things could still be grasped as a whole Thus through Marx we can obtain a coherent picture of reality as it was at the inception of the modern age An understanding of Marx is necessary for an understanding of our time This book is indispensable not only as a guide to Marx but for its sight into contemporary problems Metaphysica Nova Et Vetusta Simon Somerville Laurie,1884

Synthetica Simon Somerville Laurie,1906 Memoirs of the Royal Astronomical Society Royal Astronomical Society,1923 Memoirs of the Astronomical Society of London Royal Astronomical Society,1920 Driven Back to the Text Oona Ajzenstat,2001 This is an extended study that discusses Levinas both as a Jew and a philosopher Memoirs Royal Astronomical Society,1879 Adorno, Culture and Feminism Maggie O'Neill,1999-03-19 Adorno Culture and Feminism brings Adorno's work and feminism together and explores how feminism can both harness and develop Adorno's ideas The picture that emerges displays how gendered relations and cultural practices and texts operate today and the relevance of critical theory for contemporary feminisms Adorno s work on the scale of inequality and repression in the administered society is presented as matching the feminist understanding of the unequal balance of power between the sexes This volume shows how Adorno s central concepts commodification authenticity the culture industry Kulturkritik negative dialectics non identity thinking and authoritarian personality can be used productively and purposefully in feminist thinking
