Beck,2001 Communicating for Better Health provides a comprehensive theoretically sound and highly readable discussion of health communication in an ever changing health care industry With the advent of technology consumerism and managed care relationships between health care participants have become increasingly problematic with serious potential implications for care. This text offers a thoughtful and thought provoking analysis of the issues and aspects of the field and explains how they influence and impact each other and other health care participants. Writing in a style widely praised by reviewers who couldn't wait to read more, Beck uses specific examples including a personal narrative that unfolds throughout the text to inspire students to read, reflect, and re-examine the complexity of contemporary health communication. Medical and Health Care Books and Serials in Print, 1997

Nutrition and Diet Therapy Carroll A. Lutz, Erin Mazur, Nancy Litch, 2014-08-14. Meet the ever-changing demands of providing quality nutritional care for patients across the lifespan. This popular text provides a strong foundation in the science of nutrition and a clear understanding of how to apply that knowledge in practice, recognizing the need for nurses to work with other healthcare professionals to ensure optimal nutrition in patient care.

Leininger's Transcultural Healthcare: Concepts, Theories, Research & Practices Hiba B. Wehbe-Alamah, Marilyn R. McFarland, 2026-03-08. The most comprehensive presentation of transcultural healthcare from two pioneers of the field. After four editions of Leininger's Transcultural Nursing, the acclaimed text has been updated and expanded to present a multidisciplinary approach addressed by authors with expertise in nursing, sociology, physical therapy, and medicine. Leininger's Transcultural Healthcare: Concepts, Theories, Research Practice offers the first edition of a comprehensive presentation of transcultural healthcare in global settings which is applicable to providers, educators, and researchers working in varied health care settings with patients and/or clients from diverse cultures and religious backgrounds. Readers will find essential healthcare knowledge on the future directions of interdisciplinary collaborative transcultural healthcare practices related to education, policy, patient assessments, and communications. The book offers guidance on interprofessional, culturally congruent care practices for diverse groups such as Hindus, Taiwanese, Muslims, and Jehovah's Witnesses. Reflecting on the work of experts and scholarship from various healthcare disciplines, the book includes 25 chapters focused on special topics including but not limited to collaborative care across disciplines, transcultural simulation, aspects of pain and mental health, as well as culturally congruent translational science and end-of-life care.
