Creation and Hope Nicola Hoggard Creegan,Andrew Shepherd,2018-04-25 We live in an ecological age Science in the last few hundred years has given us a picture of nature as blind to the future and mechanical in its workings even while ecology and physics have made us aware of our interconnectedness and dependency upon the web of life As we witness a possible sixth great mass extinction there is increasing awareness too of the fragility of life on this planet In such a context what is the nature of Christian hope St Paul declares that all of creation will be set free from its bondage to decay and will obtain the freedom of the glory of the children of God How are we to imagine this freedom when death and decay are essential to biological life as we currently experience it and when the scientific predictions for life are bleak at best This book explores these questions reflecting on how our traditions shape our imagination of the future and considering how a theology of hope may sustain Christians engaged in conservation initiatives The essays in this volume are partly in dialogue with the ground breaking work of Celia Deane Drummond and are set in the context of global and local Aotearoa New Zealand ecological challenges Hope for Wildlife Ray MacLeod,2014-05-26 One day a couple who had run over a skunk with their car brought it to the Dartmouth Veterinary Hospital When the veterinarians couldn't look after it Hope Swinimer decided to take the helpless animal into her care and that was the start of it all Now through her rehabilitation centre called Hope for Wildlife Hope's name is synonymous with wildlife rescue in Nova Scotia Since 1997 hundreds of animals have been saved through the tireless efforts of the staff and volunteers at Hope for Wildlife Some animals stories were so unique that they even garnered national attention such as Hope's battle with the department of natural resources over Gretel a member of the endangered pine marten species Each creature comes with its own challenges either through a particularly difficult injury or a quirky personality like Lucifer the inexplicably bald and ornery raccoon but each patient leaves an indelible mark on the lives of those around them Hope for Wildlife tells the stories of fourteen different wild animals from Nova Scotia that have passed through the centre Colour photographs of the animals and the centre's efforts supplement the text and info boxes offer further information on the province's wildlife The stories in Hope for Wildlife are educational heartwarming and sometimes heartbreaking but always filled with hope Sunday stories, ed. by H.
