Claude Montefiore:

Claude Montefiore and Christianity Maurice Gerald Bowler, 1988 Claude Montefiore Daniel R. Langton, 2002 As a revered scholar philanthropist and spiritual authority Claude Montefiore belongs to that important group of learned laymen who have sought to revolutionise Judaism He was a founder of British Liberal Judaism at the turn of the century considered to be the most original Anglo Jewish religious thinker of his day and still remains a highly controversial figure Montefiore infuriated his enemies and often alienated his supporters with his radical agenda in which he applied the findings of historical and literary analysis to the Jewish scriptures attempted to radically systemise rabbinic thought and by his desire to learn from and re-express aspects of Christian theology The extent to which he incorporated the teachings of Jesus and Paul into his own ethical and theological musings makes him unique among Jewish reformers In his dealings with Christians and Christian thought he can also be regarded as a forerunner to those who would later fully partake in Jewish Christian dialogue The Life and Thought of Claude Montefiore is an intellectual history and biography together with an attempt to place Montefiore within the context of Jewish thought during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Controversially it argues that Montefiore's own personal conception of Liberal Judaism which was never fully appreciated by his followers should be regarded as more than simply a progressive Jewish denomination and rather as an attempt to re-mould Reform Judaism in terms of contemporary liberal Christianity Montefiore is an important figure in Anglo Jewish history not least for the way in which his complex identity reflects the difficulty inherent in attempting to make Judaism genuinely relevant to the modern world Claude Montefiore Walter Robert Matthews, 1956 An English Jew Claude Montefiore, 1989

What Are Jews For? Adam Sutcliffe,2025-01-28 For what purpose in the world were the Jews singled out as God's chosen people What Are Jews For explores the history of western thinking on the historical purpose of the Jewish people starting with ancient and medieval foundations but focusing on the period from 1600 to the present In both Judaism and Christianity the Jews have long been accorded a crucial role at the end of history when they will the world into an transformed era of unity and harmony in which all human divisions will be overcome Since the seventeenth century this messianic conception of historical purpose has been repeatedly reconfigured in new forms From the political theology of the early modern era and the universalist aspirations of Enlightenment philosophy to almost all the key domains of modern thought social economic nationalist radical assimilationist satirical psychoanalytical religious and literary the Jews have retained a close association with the positive transformation of the world Across the past four centuries the Jewish Purpose Question has been central to the attempts of both Jews and non Jews to make sense of cultural particularity in relation to a wider vision of collective purpose in history The deep and intricate layering of this question demands careful attention as it remains extremely resonant in contemporary global politics and culture polarized universalistic and particularistic conceptions of Jewish purpose have become emblematic of the most fundamental divisions over the meaning of peoplehood and collective purpose for all of us The Pastoral Epistles and the New Perspective on Paul Daniel Wayne Roberts,2021-08-31 The so called New Perspective on Paul has become a provocative way of understanding Judaism as a pattern of religion characterized by covenantal nomism which stands in contrast to the traditional Lutheran position that argues that the Judaism against which Paul responded was legalistic This new perspective of first century Judaism has remarkably changed the landscape of Pauline studies but it has done so in relative isolation from the Pastoral Epistles which are considered by most critical scholarship to be pseudonymous Because of this lack of interaction with the Pastoral Epistles this study seeks to test the hermeneutic of the New Perspective on Paul from a canonical perspective This study is not a polemic against the New Perspective on Paul but an attempt to test its hermeneutic within the Pastoral Epistles Four basic tenets of the New Perspective on Paul taken from the writings of E P Sanders N T Wright and James D G Dunn are identified and utilized to choose the passages in the Pastoral Epistles to be studied to test the New Perspective's hermeneutic outside undisputed Paul The four tenets are as follows Justification Salvation Law and Works Paul's View of Judaism and the Opponents Based on these tenets the passages considered are 1 Tim 1 6 16 2 3 7 2 Tim 1 3 8 12 and Titus 3 3 7 Lieber Freund Claude Goldsmid Montefiore,Joshua B.
