Before And After September 11 2001 An Asian Perspective:

Before and After September 11, 2001 Ateneo Center for Asian Studies, 2004 The essays here delve into the historical and social roots of the 9/11 attacks and their implications on the economy and on society as a whole One notes that the issues raised and analyses made by the eminent scholars in these articles continue to be relevant and useful and in fact may provide a basis for understanding developments that are yet to unfold from the Introduction Race and Arab Americans Before and After 9/11 Amaney Jamal, Nadine Naber, 2008-02-27 Bringing the rich terrain of Arab American histories to bear on conceptualizations of race in the United States this groundbreaking volume fills a critical gap in the field of U S racial and ethnic studies The articles collected here highlight emergent discourses on the distinct ways that race matters to the study of Arab American histories and experiences and asks essential questions What is the relationship between U S imperialism in Arab homelands and anti Arab racism in the United States In what ways have the axes of nation religion class and gender intersected with Arab American racial formations What is the significance of whiteness studies to Arab American studies Transcending multiculturalist discourses that have simply added on the category Arab American to the landscape of U S racial and ethnic studies after the attacks of September 11 2001 this volume locates September 11 as a turning point rather than as a beginning in Arab Americans Asian Perspectives on the World's Religions after September 11 Arvind Sharma, Madhu Khanna, 2013-02-15 This book offers a unique perspective on September 11 and our world after this tragic event sharing lessons from an Asian religious experience that can help heal a world troubled by religious conflicts and deepening divisions and promote a positive global transformation Existing literature regarding the events of September 11 and our world afterward has focused mostly on the West and the Middle East Asian Perspectives on the World's Religions after September 11 extends this discussion to include Asia a continent and culture far too important to be ignored in any assessment of the global impact of this event The book is organized along the following themes as they emerged post September 11th religion and civilizational dialogue religion conflict and peace religion and human rights religion and ethics religion and the arts religion hermeneutics and literature religion and gender religion and ecology and religion and globalization Individuals who are studying or teaching political science international relations philosophy ethics Asian studies or religious studies will find the text invaluable while general readers will appreciate the largely unvoiced Asian perspective on this topic Northeast Asia Vinod K. Aggarwal, Min Gyo Koo, Seungjoo Lee, Chung-in Moon, 2008-09-26 Can regional mechanisms better institutionalize the increasing complexity of economic and security ties among the countries in Northeast Asia As the international state system undergoes dramatic changes in both security and economic relations in the wake of the end of the Cold War the Asian financial crisis and the attack of 9/11 this question is now at the forefront of the minds of both academics and policymakers Still little research has been done to integrate the analysis of security and economic analysis of changes in the region within a broader context that will give us theoretically informed policy insights Against this backdrop this book investigates the origins and evolution of Northeast Asia's new institutional architecture in trade finance and security from both a theoretical and empirical perspective
