Muslim and Catholic Responses to HIV and AIDS in Kenya Timothy James Carey,2018-09-15 In the capital city of Nairobi Kenya African Catholic and Sunni Muslim leaders addressing HIV and AIDS are faced with a unique challenge On the one hand they are called to attend to the spiritual wellbeing of the infected individual on the other hand they are increasingly charged with serving as the stewards of the physical bodies of those negatively affected by such a physiologically debilitating and social stigmatized disease through certain identifiable interreligious traditions common to both faiths This book explores this development firsthand While conducting fieldwork in Nairobi Carey interviewed Muslim and Catholic leaders working in three areas HIV and AIDS prevention education and destigmatization These recorded observations and accounts help to illustrate that religious officials from within African Catholicism and Sunni Islam are attempting to provide the common inter religious traditions of mercy hospitality and justice in a holistic manner for those living with the virus in the city The research that produced this book involved six weeks of fieldwork during the summer of 2014 to help fill in the interstices between anthropological sociological and ethnographic accounts provided by other leading academics in their respective fields It presumed that religious traditions in Kenya exhibit a susceptibility to culture and context and a practical openness to its social environment which then affords this particular work a unique theological perspective in its attempt to identify and analyze patterns of social behavior and religious organization      Building World Order Mark R. Amstutz,2025-04-01 The international community is beset with problems and the order and prosperity of global society can only be realized through the collaborative work of nation states Building World Order argues that Christian values can contribute to the common good by guiding public service in government nongovernmental organizations and individual action      Reproductive Justice and the Catholic Church Emily Reimer-Barry,2024-06-10 Pregnancy loss is profoundly complex ambiguous and alienating but telling women who have procured abortions that they are murderers and sinners is not the best way forward Magisterial teachings on abortion are too often presented as moral absolutes when in fact moral absolutism distorts the rich wisdom of the Catholic intellectual tradition This book initiates a new conversation about women s experiences of miscarriage stillbirth and abortion arguing that we need not approach these difficult life experiences in a simplistic way Dr Reimer Barry argues that both the pro life and pro choice movements make important and valuable claims yet each approach on its own is flawed

Drawing on the framework of reproductive justice together with Catholic social teaching Dr Reimer Barry suggests a new way forward for abortion discourse that takes seriously the full human dignity of women and the intrinsic though not absolute value of prenatal life She argues that instead of thinking of the Church as a moral teacher with leaders in Rome or Washington DC dictating to the consciences of the faithful a better way to address the complexity of difficult pregnancy discernments would be to think of the Church as a community of support in the midst of and after difficult discernments a community that seeks justice together and implements structural reforms while also providing spiritual care to those in need What women deserve is justice
