American Dinosaur Abroad Ilja Nieuwland, 2019-05-15 In early July 1899 an excavation team of paleontologists sponsored by Andrew Carnegie discovered the fossil remains in Wyoming of what was then the longest and largest dinosaur on record Named after its benefactor the Diplodocus carnegii or Dippy as it is known today was shipped to Pittsburgh and later mounted and unveiled at the Carnegie Museum of Natural History in 1907 Carnegie's pursuit of dinosaurs in the American West and the ensuing dinomania of the late nineteenth century coincided with his broader political ambitions to establish a lasting world peace and avoid further international conflict An ardent philanthropist and patriot Carnegie gifted his first plaster cast of Dippy to the British Museum at the behest of King Edward VII in 1902 an impulsive diplomatic gesture that would result in the donation of at least seven reproductions to museums across Europe and Latin America over the next decade in England Germany France Austria Italy Russia Argentina and Spain In this largely untold history Ilja Nieuwland explores the influence of Andrew Carnegie's prized skeleton on European culture through the dissemination reception and agency of his plaster casts revealing much about the social political cultural and scientific context of the early twentieth century
