Cotswold Privies Mollie Harris,1995 Cotswold Privies Mollie Harris,1986 Literary Strolls Around the Cotswolds and the Forest of Dean Gordon Ottewell,2000 Features routes less than three miles in length and spread right across the delightful Cotswold countryside This book aims to encourage strollers to find out more about the area through the discovery of its many faceted literary associations It is suitable for lovers of literature and landscape The Cotswold Country Cookbook Mollie Harris,1986 Privies Galore Mollie Harris,1990 Inclusive Urban Design: Public Toilets Clara Greed,2007-06-01 This is a unique text providing both design guidance and policy direction for the provision and design of public toilets covering city wide district level and site specific principles It highlights the role of urban design in reversing the trend of inadequate toilet provision and sets out guidelines for design which meets both user need and provider requirements Greed presents the fundamental principle that toilets should not be dealt with in isolation from mainstream urban policy but that they should be seen as a serious core component in both strategic urban policy and local area design She argues toilets are valuable townscape features in their own right as manifestation civic pride and good urban design essential architectural components which add to the quality and viability of an area Although a range of design guidance on toilets exists there is still considerable dissatisfaction with the end product in terms of building design levels of provision location safety layout DDA requirements and accessibility By outlining user demands and provider constraints Greed shows that it is essential for architects to have an informed understanding and practical knowledge of toilet issues when working with public and private sector providers Examples of toilet architecture from other countries and policies from different cultural settings are included for comparative purposes to invigorate UK perspectives Yeomen of the Cotswolds Eleanor Porter,Mary Abbott,1995 Bogs, Baths and Basins David J Eveleigh,2006-11-15 Toilets baths and washbasins are taken for granted in today s privileged society but they are some of our most indispensable facilities How did they come about and how did we live without them From Roman times to modern day luxury David J Eveleigh leads us through the story of sanitation With the aid of new research he briefly looks into the early rather primitive sanitation devices such as cesspits and urban dung heaps and moves on to describe the advances that came with the onslaught of developing technology from the seventeenth to the twentieth century Victorian developments in water supply and the growth of piping and steam powered pumps finally lead to the comparative comforts of today The progression of baths and washbasins is also followed with evidence of their practicality rising as they became fixed rather than moveable eventually resulting in the arrival of the en suite bathroom in the nineteenth century along with the introduction of decorative tiles and attachments With first hand accounts and evidence from diaries and contemporary records this book traces the history of inventions that have affected everyone throughout history told with a lively combination of human interest and drama Merde Ralph A. Lewin,2009-03-04 Merde is an unusual very unusual and witty investigation into a subject you may always have wondered about but didn't know quite what to ask History biology anthropology culture animal behavior all of these are the real subjects of Merde Why can some animals do it on the run and others can't Why does camel dung make good fires What are the fascinating stories of the dung beetles Myths and legends physical features health and disease uses for construction and as fertilizers even nutritional values Ralph Lewin writes about them all in the most ingratiating and sophisticated and yet scientific way Merde is also full of personal adventures and observations as well as anecdotes and examples The scattered literature on this subject is voluminous but until now no one has perused and compiled it all and given it a personal touch so to speak It will be hard not to talk about this treasure trove of a book after you've finished it or perhaps even when you're in the middle of it

Michigan Archaeologist, 1994 The Michigan archaeologist, 1993 Countrywomen on the Land Geoffrey K. Nelson, 1992 The Bulletin, 1984 The British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books, 1986 to 1987 British Library, 1988 To be a Farmer's Boy Geoffrey K. Nelson, 1991 Pees and Queues Jenny Hobbs, Tim Couzens, 1999 This book is primarily a view from a South African loo which includes facts figures news items book extracts and anecdotes about conveniences and inconveniences long drops and P K's chamber pots and bidets and a whole range of usage and customs
