Fiction of Quince Duncan In this first book length study in English devoted to Duncan s work Martin Oguniola explores the issues of race class and gender in five of Duncan s major works published during the 1970s Focusing primarily on the roles of women Martin Oguniola uses the figures of Eve and the Egyptian slave Hagar to provide through metaphor an in depth analysis of the female characters portrayed in Duncan s prose Specifically the Eve Hagar paradigm is employed to examine how the essential characteristics of femininity play out in the context of ethnicity and caste The book begins with Dawn Song 1970 the story of Antillean immigrants struggling with migration oppression and resistance while adapting to a new environment and continues through Dead End Street 1979 a novel exploring the ramifications of the myth perpetrated through history that defines Costa Rica in terms of Euro Hispanic culture Martin Oguniola illustrates Duncan s use of a female presence that challenges the traditional treatment of women in literature Spanning the period between the initial settlement of the Atlantic region of Costa Rica during the early years of the twentieth century to the 1948 Costa Rican Civil War Martin Oguniola s book invites the reader to view the world through the eyes of Duncan s female characters The Eve Hagar Paradigm in the Fiction of Quince Duncan examines some of the most compelling issues of contemporary Latin American literature and illustrates how a prominent Costa Rican writer deconstructs the stereotype of woman as wife lover slave In the process Duncan finds his own voice Exposing aspects of Costa Rican society that have historically been kept in the shadows this volume makes a significant contribution to our knowledge of the Latin American literary canon The Variety and Extent of the Use of Myth in the Accepted Works of Virgil Grace Margaret Vincent McCall,1907
