Woman Changing Woman Virginia Beane Rutter, 1993 Around the world throughout time cultures have marked the intimate and transformative events of a woman's life the onset of puberty her first sexual experience conception childbirth menopause with myths and rituals Today such significant feminine rituals are missing but these transitions still profoundly affect a woman's body mind and soul Offering a compelling vision of psychotherapy as a sacred space for women's rites of passage Jungian analyst Virginia Beane Rutter brilliantly illuminates the emotional lives of women Woman to woman therapy writes Beane Rutter is the ritual container for the lost feminine in our culture Modeling on intrinsically female pattern of change woman to woman therapy is a process involving stages of containment transformation and emergence It is a place for a woman to uncover and make conscious the motivating stories and myths in her individual psyche Here a woman has the opportunity to listen to her own voice perhaps for the first time With insight and understanding Beane Rutter connects the practices myths and archetypal images of cultures past and present the Navajo Neolithic Catal Huyuk and Ancient Greek to the life experiences dreams and therapeutic processes of three contemporary women In so doing she traces the emotional physical and spiritual journey of the cultural heroine who through her individual process of initiation transformation healing and self awareness courageously takes up the task of all women

Cinematic Projections Luke Hockley, 2001 An introduction to the world of post-Jungian film studies this book redresses the dominance of Freudian theories of cinema and guides individuals through the intricacies of Jungian thought In so doing it provides the basis on which to construct a contemporary theory of cinema Drawing on research into detective films and the myths of detection Hockley weaves together psychological analysis with textual interpretation The resulting hypothesis suggests that watching films is an intensely personal experience in which viewers according to individual needs and desires project and identify with films and their characters

The Wisdom of the Dream Stephen Segaller, Merrill Berger, 2000 The Wisdom of the Dream takes you on a journey in Jung's footsteps through Switzerland the United States and Africa and records the memories of his students patients and followers Through these testimonies renowned writer producer Stephen Segaller portrays a man of genius and humility whose devotion to understanding and curing psychological pain affected everyone around him With a new afterword by the author and releasing to coincide with the PBS television documentary premiering in Fall 2000 The Wisdom of the Dream offers the reader a unique encounter with Jung's thought an experience that may awaken a deeply rewarding individual search for meaning
