Cosmopolitan Urbanism Jon Binnie, Julian Holloway, Steve Millington, Craig Young, 2006-05-02 In order to attract investment and tourism cities are increasingly competing to re brand themselves as cosmopolitan and in recent years cosmopolitanism has become the focus of considerable critical attention in academia. Here renowned editors and contributors have come together to produce one of the first books to tackle cosmopolitanism from a geographical perspective. Central to the cosmopolitan process is how traditionally marginalized groups have become re valued and reconstructed as a resource in the eyes of planners and politicians. This fascinating book examines the politics of these transformations by understanding the everyday practices of cosmopolitanism. Which forms of cultural difference are valued and which are excluded from this re visioning of the contemporary city. Organized in three distinct parts the book covers production and consumption and cosmopolitanism the spatialities of cosmopolitanism the deployment mobilization and articulation of cosmopolitan discourses in policy making and urban design. The volume is groundbreaking in examining the complex politics of cosmopolitanism in empirical case studies from Montreal to Singapore London to Texas Auckland to Amsterdam. With a strong editorial steer including general and section introductions and a conclusion to guide the student reader Cosmopolitan Urbanism employs a range of theoretical and empirical approaches to provide a grounded treatment essential for students of human geography urban studies and sociology.

The Ashgate Research Companion to Cosmopolitanism Maria Rovisco, Magdalena Nowicka, 2016-04-01 The study of Cosmopolitanism has been transformed in the last 20 years and the subject itself has become highly discussed across the social sciences and the humanities. The Ashgate Research Companion to Cosmopolitanism pursues distinct theoretical orientations and empirical analyses bringing together mainstream discussions with the newest thinking and developments on the main themes debates and controversies surrounding the subject. The contributions are grouped into three parts each reflecting a different analytical focus within a variety of intellectual disciplines and methodological approaches. Part I

Cultural Cosmopolitanism is primarily concerned with the empirically grounded aspects of cosmopolitanism which are apparent in mundane practices and lifestyle options on the micro scale of daily interactions. It focuses on the outlooks and lived experience of ordinary individuals and groups in concrete situational contexts and social structures.

Part II Political Cosmopolitanism sets out the main topics and issues dealt with by scholars writing within the tradition of political cosmopolitanism. Addressing timely issues such as human rights, global justice and global democracy, it focuses on Cosmopolitanism as an ethico-political ideal and a political project to devise new forms of supranational and transnational governance.

Part III Debates reflects the major debates and controversies on the subject and deliberately eschews any bland consensus to instead foreground the key arguments and lively intellectual discussions in play across disciplinary divisions. Featuring contributions from key thinkers in the field including Ulrich Beck, David Held and Martha Nussbaum, this comprehensive volume will be a valuable resource for all academics and students working within this area of study.

The Routledge Research Companion to Geographies of Sex and Sexualities Gavin Brown, Kath Browne, 2016-05-20

Comprehensive and authoritative, this state-of-the-art review both charts and develops the rich sub-discipline geographies of sexualities, exploring sex, gender, sexuality and sexual practices. Emerging from the desire to examine differences and exclusions as a key aspect of human geographies, these geographies have engaged with heterosexual and queer, lesbian, gay, bi and trans lives. Developing thinking in this area, geographers and other social scientists have illustrated the centrality of place, space and other spatial relationships in reconstituting sexual practices, representations, desires, as well as sexed bodies and lives. This book reviews the current state of the field and offers new insights from authors located on five continents. In doing so, the book seeks to draw on and influence core debates in this field, as well as disrupt the Anglo-American hegemony in studies of sexualities, sexes and geographies. This volume is the definitive collection in the area, bringing together many international leaders in the field alongside scholars that are well established outside the Anglophone academy and many emerging talents who will lead the field in the decades to come.

Gender, Sexuality and National Identity in the Lives of British Lifestyle Migrants in Spain Laura Dixon, 2021-03-29

This book takes an intimate look at the lives of British migrants in Sitges, an affluent coastal tourist town in Northern Spain, and investigates ideas of gender, sexuality and national identity as they are brought to life through the voices of British lifestyle migrants. Situating Sitges as a specifically affluent and middle-class location representing a particular form of lifestyle migration, this rich and detailed study explores how the experiences of British migrants reinscribe culturally specific understandings of the relationship between space, place, culture and identity. What ultimately emerges is an account of the complex structural constraints of identity as British migrants find themselves stuck within the stereotype of 'badly behaved Brits Abroad' and entangled in highly conservative conceptualisations of gender and sexuality that leave them unable to live the kind of cosmopolitan lifestyles that they so purposefully sought. This is a fascinating study suitable for researchers in gender and sexuality studies, tourism, sociology and anthropology.

Re-presenting the Terminal Jennifer Traina-Dorge,2010      Where Strangers Become Neighbours Leonie Sandercock,Giovanni Attili,2008-12-10 In the present age of migration the influx of immigrants from distant lands leads inevitably to the spatial and social restructuring of cities and regions It is often accompanied by fears of and hostility towards the newcomers Nevertheless in Europe North America and Japan this influx of immigrants is essential to economic growth How can immigrants become accepted members of the society of their adopted country How can strangers become neighbours What alchemies of political and social imagination are required to achieve peaceful coexistence in the mongrel cities of the 21st century What philosophies and policies have made integration successful in Canada and how can it be translated into European context The book tackles an important contemporary issue the social integration of immigrants in a large metropolis by way of the detailed case study of one Canadian city The book provides a large political and legal context which makes this case study comprehensible and inspiring to readers outside Canada      Contemporary British Queer Performance S. Greer,2016-02-02 This book examines queer performance in Britain since the early 1990s arguing for the significance of emerging collaborative modes of practice Using queer theory and the history of early lesbian and gay theatre to examine claims to representation among other things it interrogates the relationships through which recent works have been presented      Environment & Planning ,2012      Hearst's International Combined with Cosmopolitan ,1912      Cosmopolitan Urbanism, Place Marketing and Exclusion in Manchester Martina DIEP,University of Manchester.
