Rock Art and the Wild Mind Ingrid Fuglestad, 2017-12-22 Rock Art and the Wild Mind presents a study of Mesolithic rock art on the Scandinavian peninsula including the large rock art sites in Alta N mforfen and Vingen Hunters rock art of this area despite local styles bears a strong commonality in what it depicts most often terrestrial big game in diverse confrontations with the human realm The various types of compositions are defined as visual thematizations of the enigmatic relationship between humans and big game animals These thematizations here defined as motemes are explained as being products of the Mesolithic mind in action observed through repetitions variations and transformations of a number of defined motemes Through a transformational logic the transition from animic to totemic rock art is observed Totemic rock art reaches a peak during the final stages of the Late Mesolithic and it is suggested that this can be interpreted as representing an increasing focus on human society towards the end of this era The move from animism to totemism is explained as being part of the overall social development on the Scandinavian peninsula This book will be of interest to students of rock art generally and scholars working on the historical developments of prehistoric hunter gatherers in northern Europe It will also appeal to students and academics in the fields of art history and aesthetics and to those interested in the work of L vi Strauss

Women Contesting the Mainstream Discourses of the Art World Penelope Josephine Collet, 2004 A neglected area of publishing in the visual arts is that of women's perceptions and strategies for sustaining their careers as artists This book reports on research which investigated the formative life experiences of nine women and how they perceived their positions as students artists art teachers and family members in relation to the discourses dominant in their lives The study aimed to identify new discursive practices undertaken by the women to contest their positioning It used feminist poststructuralist methodology that acknowledged the notion of constitution and positioning of the subject in discourse This innovative methodology is valuable for researchers in a range of disciplines not only in studying careers of women but also other marginalised groups Because of the reliance on the women s voices the text contributes rich pictures of women s lives and their attempts to negotiate their careers in workplaces they described as battle grounds Consequently the text has a wider appeal to readers interested in women s careers and art practice experiences of the women who were able to challenge and restructure constraining discourses They utilised a range of strategies to negotiate obstacles and based on the women s experiences and the literature the author is then able to propose further possible strategies

Social and Critical Practice in Art Education Dennis Atkinson, Paul Dash, 2005 This book takes a new exciting and important approach to art It shows how children and older students can use art to explore personal social and cultural issues that touch their lives The book covers new ground responding as it does to the increasingly diverse nature of cities and to recent government initiatives worldwide to foster social inclusion and equality of opportunity and support active citizenship The contributors are art educators They write about their ways of engaging with contemporary art practice in their particular fields so as to encourage young people to acquire critical understanding They also challenge the pedagogies that perpetuate long established forms of art practice Tim Rollins writes about his work with disaffected youths in the Bronx and John Johnston describes work in art to bring communities together in Northern Ireland Other contributors include Toby Jackson head of interpretation at Tate Modern Diedre Prinz curator of the Robben Island museum in South Africa the 198 Gallery in south London and Viv Golding who works in museums and gallery education Sinath Bannerjee explores socio cultural issues in comic novels in India and Sue Lok explores identities through art practices Educators at each level also contribute to this groundbreaking book Andy Gower describes his innovative art practice in a secondary school and children of Room 13 in a Scottish primary school report on their organization of their own focus for art Lesley Burgess and Nick Addison give an account of their development of critical and social practices in art education at London s Institute of Education The book is for all those working in art education in museums and galleries schools and communities Contributor information Tim Rollins work in New York with Kids of Survival KOS has achieved world wide acclaim Beginning in the 1980s Rollins taught a highly disaffected group of teenagers in the Bronx and together they established an art workshop where members of the group produced challenging conceptual art work Subsequently work was sold and is now held in major galleries around the world Through their visual practices many members of the group overcame feelings of rejection and alienation and developed self assurance and confidence John Johnston works with the Protestant communities in Belfast and through the use of visual practices he has been working with young people in a variety of community sites to explore issues of identity This is a difficult educational challenge given the history of Northern Ireland Recently he has been invited to work in Lebanon at a human rights summer school He has been working with young people there to explore themes of home and belonging through visual practices Room 13 consists of a highly creative group of children at Caol

Primary School near Fort William in Scotland The children are producing contemporary art which has received much interest and acclaim nationally and internationally The children run Room 13 as an entirely self funding business independent from the school Rob Fairley and Claire Gibb are the only adults involved they offer advice but they are not the children s teachers An elected committee of children makes all decisions about the work and the business Viv Golding is a lecturer in museum studies at Leicester University She uses the concept of museum clearing to counter the discourses of lack often a self fulfilling prophecy that frequently permeates much discussion of Black children and their under achievement in UK schools today The practical value of her critique is illustrated through a fieldwork project involving imaginative art and literacy school and museum work in south London with early years children Deidre Prins and her team work as education officers at Robben Island Museum in South Africa They provide some background to the work of the museum and introduce readers briefly to the legacy of creative forms used in the maximum security prison between 1960s and 1991 and the role it played in creating a process of normalization under conditions that were repressive and alienating A large part of the audiences of Robben Island Museum are children and youth All of them have no memory or experience of the colonial period in RSA history and very few of them have a memory or experience of apartheid These are two defining periods in the lives of all South Africans with the scars benefits and joys of a new democracy To create a dynamic learning environment in which children and youth can engage with a legacy which is at once painful and liberatory requires a process of making memory speaking about the past doing the past and understanding the past Their engagement with this past in turn creates their own memories and leaves its mark on Robben Island which is a living museum The theme of memory making will be described through the production of a photographic collage which is part of the annual Spring School activities 198 Gallery The team at the 198 Gallery write about their work on the Urban Visions scheme which is an outreach programme that deals with disaffected youth in south London Lucy Davies the chief administrator and other gallery staff will write about how their program has impacted on the learning experience of children from this diverse urban environment Many are excluded from schools or have learning difficulties which schools find difficult to address The gallery in its work across a range of media but more especially electronic media has earned the respect of many in educational and fine art circles both in this country and in mainland Europe Sue Lok is an artist and lecturer at Middlesex University She has a particular interest in the experience of Chinese British artists and young people Her work will explore themes central to their experience alongside issues emanating from her own experience as an artist and researcher Lesley Burgess and Nick Addison are art educators at the Institute of Education in London They have a nation wide reputation for their seminal publication Learning to Teach Art and Design in the Secondary School They have carried out further research in the arena of teacher education for this book Andy Gower is head of art at a north London comprehensive school He and his team have devised a way of teaching which is unique but very successful within the state system Their issues based approach extends across the year groups and encourages responses which address issues of personal social cultural and political concern The idea is not to focus greatly on the development of traditional skills in making art but in fostering a creative thinking environment in which children respond imaginatively and personally to issues which impact on their lives Sarnath is a comic artist he address issues through the graphic medium of comic imagery His work explores relationships and issues of exclusion both physical and psychological The ways in which his pieces unfurl encourage different interpretations and readings of what is being said It is an extraordinarily intense and challenging comic style which demands constant revisiting and re reading His chapter invites us to enter the world of a south Asian man whose thoughts drift in and out of different points of experience It takes us on a physical and psychological journey and depositis us in a space that begs more questions about identity and belonging Sarnath Banerjee has initiated a scheme in the south Asian community of Tower Hamlets in east London which will see Bengali women make comics about their lives and thoughts He is developing a similar scheme among a number of minority ethnic communities in the Brixton area of south London He is shortl

Postmigration, Transculturality and the Transversal Politics of Art Anne Ring Petersen,2023-11-16 This is the first book to develop a postmigrant analytical perspective for the study of art concentrating on how postmigration reopens the study of contemporary art and migration The book introduces art historians and other scholars with a methodological interest in cultural analysis to the innovative concept of postmigration offering a comprehensive introduction to the various meanings and uses of the term as well as translating it methodologically to an art historical context The book analyses art projects from Denmark Germany and Great Britain which address some of the current challenges to European societies of immigration and by drawing on theory from fields such as migration studies transcultural studies and feminist postcolonial and political theory as well as re engaging established concepts such as imagination commemoration belonging identity racialization community public space and participation The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history art and politics migration studies and transcultural studies The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Funded by The Novo Nordisk Foundation The Novo Nordisk Foundation s Committee on Research in Art and Art History Grant No NNF19OC0053992

Place-As-Medium and New Grounds for Thinking in Contemporary Art Katherine Paige Farrington,2025-12-26 This book presents a broad scope of global contemporary art projects establishing a new philosophical framework to understand and evaluate the new art practice known as place s edium This new category of art practice creates artworks that deepen our belonging to place by asking us to think through them together This book shows how place s edium art reshapes the ground of thinking by offering a new reading of the work of Alfredo Jaar through the theories of Jacques Ranciere Gianni Vattimo and Martin Heidegger An in depth analysis of Carolyn Christov Bakargiev s 2012 international art exhibition dOCUMENTA 13 focuses on the temporal and spatial dimensions of thinking through place This book advocates for shared authorship exemplified in artworks by

Theaster Gates and John Preus that use repair and renovation to rebuild communities and provides a model for ecological thinking in a case study of The Swamp School by Nomedá and Gediminas Urbonas Additionally this book includes a Coda for Place s edium as a practical guide for artists to think through place This book will be of interest to scholars working in art history contemporary art and philosophy Notes for an Art School International Foundation Manifesta,2006 An anthology of essays and interviews by artists curators theorists and educators Mai Abu ElDahab Babak Afrassiabi Julie Ault Martin Beck Liam Gillick Boris Groys Olaf Metzger Haris Pellapaisiotis Tobias Rehberger Walid Sadek Nasrin Tabatabai Jan Verwoert Anton Vidokle and Florian Waldvogel on the topic of art education Documents of Doubt Heather Diack,2020-06-12 A major reassessment of photography s pivotal role in 1960s conceptual art Why do we continue to look to photographs for evidence despite our awareness of photography s potential for duplicity Documents of Doubt critically reassesses the truth claims surrounding photographs by looking at how conceptual artists creatively undermined them Studying the unique relationship between photography and conceptual art practices in the United States during the social and political instability of the late 1960s Heather Diack offers vital new perspectives on our post truth world and the importance of suspending easy conclusions in contemporary art Considering the work of four leading conceptual artists of the 1960s and 70s Diack looks at photographs as documents of doubt pushing the form beyond commonly assumed limits Through in depth and thorough reevaluations of early work by noted artists Mel Bochner Bruce Nauman Douglas Huebler and John Baldessari Diack advances the powerful thesis that photography provided a means of moving away from the object and toward performative effects playing a crucial role in the development of conceptual art as a medium of doubt and contingency Discussing how unexpected and contradictory meanings can exist in the guise of ordinary pictures Documents of Doubt offers evocative and original ideas on truth s connection to photography in the United States during the late 1960s and how conceptual art from that period anticipated our current era of alternative facts in contemporary politics and culture Management and Administration ,1921 Includes critical reviews Which Way to the Modern Art Museum? Katarzyna Pieprzak,2001 Management and Administration in Manufacturing Industries Leon Pratt Alford,1921 Integración y resistencia en la era global Jorge Fernández Era,2009* Administration ,1921 Includes critical reviews The Plays of Shakespeare Founded on Literary Forms Henry Joseph Ruggles,1895 The Uses of Art in Public Space Julia Lossau,Quentin Stevens,2014-12-05 This book links two fields of interest which are too seldom considered together the production and critique of art in public space and social behaviour in the public realm Whilst most writing about public art has focused on the aesthetic cultural and political intentions and processes that shape its production this edited collection examines a variety of public artworks from the perspective of their actual everyday use Contributors are interested in the rich diversity of peoples engagements with public artworks across various spatial and temporal scales encounters which do not limit themselves to the representational aspects of the art and which are not necessarily as the artist curator or sponsor
