Drove Roads Of Scotland:

The Drove Roads of Scotland A. R. B. Haldane, 1954 The Drove Roads of Scotland Archibald Richard Burdon Haldane, 1968 A Place to Believe in Clare A. Lees, Gillian R. Overing, 2010-11

Medievalists have much to gain from a thoroughgoing contemplation of place. If landscapes are windows onto human activity they connect us with medieval people enabling us to ask questions about their senses of space and place. In A Place to Believe In Clare Lees and Gillian Overing bring together scholars of medieval literature, archaeology, history, religion, art history, and environmental studies to explore the idea of place in medieval religious culture. The essays in A Place to Believe In reveal places real and imagined: ancient and modern Anglo-Saxon Northumbria, home of Whitby and Bede's monastery of Jarrow; Cistercian monasteries of late medieval Britain; pilgrimages of mind and soul in Margery Kempe; the ruins of Coventry Cathedral in 1940 and representations of the sacred landscape in today's Pacific Northwest. A strength of the collection is its awareness of the fact that medieval and modern viewpoints converge in an experience of place and frame a newly created space where the literary, the historical, and the cultural are in ongoing negotiation with the geographical, the personal, and the material. Featuring a distinguished array of scholars, A Place to Believe In will be of great interest to scholars across medieval fields interested in the interplay between medieval and modern ideas of place. Contributors are Kenneth Addison, Sarah Beckwith, Stephanie Hollis, Stacy S. Klein, Fred Orton, Ann Marie Rasmussen, Diane Watt, Kelley M. Wickham-Crowley, Ulrike Wiethaus, and Ian Wood.

Novus Ordo Seclorum Forrest McDonald, 1985. A witty and energetic study of the ideas and passions of the Framers. New York Times Book Review. G. Clarke, Jamie McPhie, 2023-07-24

New materialisms refers to a broad, contemporary and significant movement of thought across the social sciences and cultural studies which attempts to return to, renew or create alternative philosophies of matter. Such philosophies spring from multiple sources but are in general an attempt to bring the indissolubility of the social and environmental more forcefully into our analytical frames and modes of inquiry and tackle a perceived over-reliance on discourse and language in the so-called post-modern era of philosophy and social science. This movement in thought is underlaid by and meets up with the climate and biodiversity crises and the nature of the human condition and modes of learning or becoming within the field of environmental education. This volume brings together academics working at differing intersections of environmental education and new materialisms, highlighting tensions, knots and lines of flight across and for research practice and theory. As such this collection draws on multiple interpretations and streams of thought within new materialisms and demonstrates their significance for those engaging with environmental education policy practice and research This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Environmental Education Research Scotland's Magazine ,1961 Common Land in Britain Angus J.
