Accounts and with Australian financial and housing markets      Aggregation, Consumption and Trade L. Philips, L.D. Taylor, 2012-12-06 In this testament to the distinguished career of H S Houthakker a number of Professor Houthakker's friends, former colleagues and former students offer essays which build upon and extend his many contributions to economics in aggregation, consumption, growth and trade. Among the many distinguished contributors are Paul Samuelson, Werner Hildenbrand, John Muellbauer and Lester Telser. The book also includes four previously unpublished papers and notes by its distinguished dedicatee.

Studies in Austrian Capital Theory, Investment, and Time Malte Faber, 2013-03-14 The neglect of time in general and of the time structure of production in particular in mainstream economics led to the rebirth of the Austrian tradition in the seventies. The names of BERNHOLZ, HICKS, KIRZNER and VON WEIZSACKER are representative of different approaches. In 1979 my Introduction to Modern Austrian Capital Theory appeared in which I unified various papers BERNHOLZ and I had written. I also linked our approach to those of VON NEUMANN, HICKS and of neoclassical capital theory. These Studies supplement and continue my Introduction in various ways. With all the authors of the present volume I have cooperated for several years. This volume is subdivided into five parts. The first one, Historical Perspectives, gives first an outline on the development of Austrian capital theory from its origins to the present. Next it relates Modern Austrian Capital Theory to SRAFFA's theory and to the Austrian subjectivists' pure time preference theory of interest. The latter theory is represented in its opposition to the traditional productivity cum time preference explanation of interest which is common to neoclassical and BOHM-BAWERKian capital theory alike. The Austrian subjectivist pure time preference theory has been misinterpreted in its recent presentation which has led to misunderstandings. It is shown that there is no real contradiction between the two approaches.

The Measurement of Deadweight Loss Revisited W. E. Diewert, 1978

The Quarterly Journal of Economics Charles Franklin Dunbar, Frank William Taussig, Abbott Payson Usher, Alvin Harvey Hansen, William Leonard Crum, Edward Chamberlin, Arthur Eli Monroe, 1977 Vols 1-22 include the section Recent publications upon economics.

Journal of Economic Dynamics & Control, 1981      Agricultural Economics Staff Paper Series, 1988      Industry Productivity, 1996      Applied Welfare Economics and Public Policy Richard E. Just, Darrell L. Hueth, Andrew Schmitz, 1982      Southern Economic Journal, 2002      Australian Economic Papers, 1980      Artha Vijnāna, 1998      Fundamentals of Production Theory Rolf Färe, 1988-07-27 This graduate text develops production theory from a set of reasonable axioms. The theory is presented both in a primal and dual as well as in an indirect constrained framework. The basic model leads to a set of efficiency measures which can be readily employed in empirical work. A first draft of the text was used to teach students at Vanderbilt University. The text includes a variety of exercise problems.
