Arabs At The Crossroads:

Arabs at the Crossroads Hilal Khashan, 2000 This work is brave and important Dr Khashan takes the necessary scholarly risk of saying things that are unpopular in many Arab circles Calling on the Arabs to reexamine their identity is not an easy task for a resident of Beirut Jamal R Nassar Illinois State University In this provocative study Hilal Khashan assesses Arab political experience during the 20th century He examines the rise and fall of Arab hopes for founding a territorial entity based on a unified identity focusing on important issues that contribute to the existing impasse that prevails in the Arab world These issues include the concept of Arab nationalism the seeming inability of Arab ruling elites to liberalize their societies propel economic growth and enfranchise the masses and the growth of Islamic revival movements Khashan dissects the components of the Arabs political quagmire by recognizing the nature of their identity crisis as well as its ramifications In a departure from typical academic writing he prescribes an agenda to help the Arabs deal better with the challenges of the 21st century dwelling on the need for them to respect authority reconsider their nationalistic identity define and pursue realistic objectives and commit themselves to political representation In addition his explanation of Iraq s motives when it triggered the two Gulf conflicts differs sharply from most Western accounts Khashan articulates issues that the majority of writers on Arab affairs prefer to avoid Arab intellectuals and scholars of the Middle East as well as journalists and politicians will be fascinated by this controversial book Hilal Khashan associate professor of political science at the American University of Beirut is the author of Inside the Lebanese Confessional Mind and Partner or Pariah Attitudes Toward Israel in Syria Lebanon and Jordan and has published in such journals as Orbis Middle East Quarterly and Arab Studies Quarterly

Manifold Destiny John Tofik Karam, 2021-01-15 Electronic open access edition funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities At the border where Brazil Paraguay and Argentina meet under the scrutiny of the US and Mercosur the large South American trade bloc Arabs have long fulfilled what author John Tofik Karam calls a manifold destiny Karam casts Lebanese Palestinians and Syrians at this American border as circumstantial protagonists of a hemispheric saga For the more than six decades since they started settling at the trilateral border between Brazil Paraguay and Argentina Arabs have animated the hemisphere Their transnational economic and social projects reveal a heretofore unacknowledged venue of exceptional rule in which the community accommodates and abides multiple states varied suspensions of norms and laws Arabs set up businesses and community centers at the border under authoritarian military governments between the 1950s and 1980s thereafter when denied full democratic enfranchisement they instead underwent increasing surveillance from the 1990s to today Karam reveals an unfinished history of exceptional rule that Arabs accommodate from an authoritarian past to a counterterrorist present Karam s riveting account draws on anthropological and historical research from each side of this trilateral South American border as well as from the US where government bureaucrats still suspect Arabs at the border of would be terrorist subversion Offering a fresh understanding of the hemisphere Manifold Destiny brings the transnational turn of Middle Eastern studies to bear upon the fields of American studies Brazilian studies and Latin American studies

Crossroads to Islam Yehuda D. Nevo, Judith Koren, 2003-06 In this controversial exploration of the early history of Islam archaeologist Yehuda D Nevo and researcher Judith Koren present a revolutionary theory of the origins and development of the Islamic state and religion Whereas most works on this subject derive their view of the history of this period from the Muslim literature Crossroads to Islam also examines important types of evidence hitherto neglected the literature of the local Christian population archaeological excavations numismatics and especially rock inscriptions These analyses lay the foundation for a radical view of the development of Islam According to Nevo and Koren the evidence suggests that the Arabs were in fact pagan when they assumed power in the regions formerly ruled by the Byzantine Empire They contend that the Arabs took control almost without a struggle because Byzantium had effectively withdrawn from the area long before After establishing control the new Arab elite adopted a simple monotheism influenced by Judaeo Christianity which they encountered in their newly acquired territories and gradually developed it into the Arab religion Not until the mid 8th century was this process completed This interpretation of the evidence corroborates the view of other scholars who on different grounds propose that Islam and the canonized version of the Koran were preceded by a long period of development This new view turns on its head the traditional history of the rise of Islam which claims that Islam began with Muhammad in Mecca and Medina around 622 then spread throughout Arabia under his charismatic leadership and finally after Muhammad's death 632 inspired his followers to conquer widespread territories both in the East and West By contrast Nevo and Koren suggest that the rise of the Arab state created a need for a state religion eventually called Islam This absorbing and controversial rethinking of Islam's early history is must reading for students and scholars of Islamic history and anyone interested in the origins of the world's second largest religion

Arab youths Laurent Bonnefoy, Myriam Catusse, 2023-11-21 Young Arabs are too often reduced to the figures of the potential terrorist the migrant or the exotic icon of the revolution But the reality is much richer Coming from both sides of the Mediterranean the researchers in this book travel off the beaten track by exploring how young Arabs spend their free time The case studies take in a wide range of countries including Morocco Egypt Syria Iraq and Saudi Arabia and all manner of activities from football to rap music caf culture to sex work Drawn with sensitivity and humour Arab youths presents an exceptional portrait of a generation that is much talked about but rarely listened to This book gives a voice to young men and women who as heirs of plural traditions animated by new ideas and influenced by various cultural movements are inventing the future of their societies in the midst of radical change

Islamic Studies, 2001 Social Anthropology in the Arab World Abdullah Alajmi, Daniele Cantini, Irene Maffi, Imed Melliti, 2025 There are ongoing efforts in anthropology to decolonise its history and give fairer space to marginalised traditions This book examines the history and institutionalisation of anthropology in the Maghreb the Mashreq and the Gulf in an open and collaborative manner and from various perspectives Its primary focus is two fold first to reorient the anthropological focus towards studies conducted in the region particularly on the conditions conducive to the institutionalisation of anthropological knowledge second to shed light on anthropological studies in languages other than English offering different theoretical and epistemological perspectives Provided by publisher Journal of Palestine Studies, 2001 Country Reports on Human Rights Practices, 2009 The Arab Human Development Report 2002, 2002 The report looks at the progress Arab countries have made in human development over the past three decades To facilitate further development the report emphasises the need to overcome shortcomings in the Arab institutional structure These relate to freedom of thought religion education free elections and justice the empowerment of women and knowledge To be an Arab in Israel Laurence Louër, 2007 The continuing rise of nationalist sentiments among Palestinians however threw the relationship between the Jewish state and the Arab minority into chaos But as Louer demonstrates Palestinization did not prompt the Arab citizens of Israel to set aside their Israeli citizenship Rather Israel s Arabs have sought to insert themselves into Israeli society while simultaneously celebrating their difference and these efforts have led to a confrontation between two conceptions of society and two visions of Israel BOOK JACKET Oil and the Arab-Israeli Conflict, 1948-1963 U. Bialer, 1998-11-08 Bialer focuses on Israel s attempts to ensure a regular oil supply in the first decade of its existence He reveals that its main problems derived from the context of the Arab Israeli conflict which categorically influenced the stand of governments and international oil companies who held the keys to decision making The author provides an analysis of the reciprocal relations between Israel and these players and clarifies the unique method which the state adopted in attempting to secure its oil supply Palestine at the Crossroads Ladislav Farago, 1937 A journalist s account of several months spent in Palestine a growing storm center where Jew and Arab are struggling for land which each feels to be rightfully his The author is content to sketch briefly what he has seen without drawing conclusions or offering constructive views on conditions He gives a better picture of the Jew than of the Moslem in that it is a fuller picture and a more intimate one The influx of hundreds of rootless families who are as yet disintegrated in their return to the home of their forefathers The author travels here and there meets this potentate and that but seems to lack any real insight into either race or their respective problems From Kirkus reviews June 15 1937 The Best Books for Academic Libraries: World history, 2002 Books recommended for undergraduate and college libraries listed by Library of Congress Classification Numbers Migration, Ethnicity, and Community Ernest Krausz, 1981 Communism in the Arab East, 1918-1928 Sulaymān Bashīr, 1980 Class & Client in Beirut Michael Johnson, 1986 The Arab League and Peacekeeping in the Lebanon Istvan S.
