Airports A Century Of Architecture:

Airports Hugh Pearman,2004 Since their emergence at the start of the 20th century airports have become one of the most distinctive and important of architectural building types Often used to symbolize progress freedom and trade they offer architects the chance to design on a grand scale At the beginning of the 21st century airports are experiencing a new and exciting renaissance as they adapt and evolve into a new type of building one that is complete adaptable and catering to a new range of demands As passengers are held in airports far longer than they used to be they have also now become destinations in their own right Airports celebrates the most important airport designs in the world Beginning with an exploration of the first structures of aviation and early designs such as the Berlin Tempelhof the book explores the key airports of the century up to the present day including Eero Saarinen s TWA Terminal in New York Renzo Piano s Kansai Airport and Norman Foster s Chek Lap Kok in Hong Kong Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Architecture R. Stephen Sennott,2004 A balance of sophistication and clarity in the writing authoritative entries and strong cross referencing that links architects and structures to entries on the history and theory of the profession make this an especially useful source on a century of the world s most notable architecture The contents feature major architects firms and professional issues buildings styles and sites the architecture of cities and countries critics and historians construction materials and planning topics schools movements and stylistic and theoretical terms Entries include well selected bibliographies and illustrations Reference that rocks American Libraries May 2005 From Tradition to Future: Architecture of the Century of Türkiye T.C. Galison,A. Roland,2013-03-07 All technologies differ from one another They are as varied as humanity s interaction with the physical world Even people attempting to do the same thing produce multiple technologies For example John H White discovered more than 1 1000 patents in the 19th century for locomotive smokestacks Yet all technologies are processes by which humans seek to control their physical environment and bend nature to their purposes All technologies are alike The tension between likeness and difference runs through this collection of papers All focus on atmospheric flight a twentieth century phenomenon But they approach the topic from different disciplinary perspectives They ask disparate questions And they work from distinct agendas Collectively they help to explain what is different about aviation how it differs from other technologies and how flight itself has varied from one time and place to another The importance of this topic is manifest Flight is one of the defining technologies of the twentieth century Jay David Bolter argues in Turing s Man that certain technologies in certain ages have had the power not only to transform society but also to shape the way in which people understand their relationship with the physical world A defining technology says Bolter resembles a magnifying glass which collects and focuses seemingly disparate ideas in a culture into one bright sometimes piercing ray 2 Flight has done that for the twentieth century Airport Aura Lilia Mironov,2020-02-26 Throughout the 20th century and into the 21st the emergence of airports as gateways for their cities has turned into one of the most important architectural undertakings Ever since the first manned flight by the Brothers Orville and Wilbur Wright on December 17th 1903 utilitarian sheds next to landing strips on cow pastures evolved into a completely new building type over the next few decades into places of Modernism as envisioned by Le Corbusier and Frank Lloyd Wright who themselves never built an airport to eventually turn into icons of cultural identity progress and prosperity Many of these airports have become architectural branding devices of their respective cities regions and countries created by some of the most notable contemporary architects This interdisciplinary cultural study deals with the historical formation and transformation of the architectural typology of airports under the aspect of spatial theories This includes the shift from early spaces of transportation such as train stations the synesthetic effect of travel and mobility and the effects of material innovations on the development occupation and use of such spaces The changing uses from mere utilitarian transportation spaces to ones centered on the spectacular culture of late capitalism consumption and identity formation in a rapidly changing global culture are analyzed with examples both from architectural and philosophical points of view The future of airport architecture and design very much looks like the original idea of the Crystal Palace and Parisian Arcades to provide a stage for consumption social theatre and art exhibition The Architects' Journal ,2004-10 Architectural Record ,1929 Icons of Architecture Sabine Thiel-Siling,2005 An overview of twentieth century architecture featuring short essays on innovations in design and profiles of architects
