Change Makers Shaun Carney,2019-02-05 Good leadership Why is it so elusive Are there successful traits that can be transferred from one field to another or is it a constant application of imagination to the changing challenges How do you take others with you Now more than ever we need leaders who can be strong yet humble bold and assertive when it counts but have the capacity to listen and learn who can motivate and influence and who can get the best out of those around them Twenty five outstanding Australian leaders from diverse worlds such as science the police force a netball team a spy agency emergency medicine business politics and unionism share their insights and lessons on the essence of inspiring leadership

Building the Critical Anthropology of Climate Change Hans A. Baer,Merrill Singer,2024-08-14 This book applies a critical perspective to anthropogenic climate change and the global socio ecological crisis The book focuses on the critical anthropology of climate change by opening up a dialogue with the two main contending perspectives in the field namely the cultural ecological and the cultural interpretive perspectives Guided by these the authors take a firm stance on the types of changes that are needed to sustain life on Earth as we know it Within this framework they explore issues of climate and social equity the nature of the current era in Earth s geohistory the perspectives of the elite polluters driving climate change and the regrettable contributions of anthropologists and other scholars to climate change Engaging with perspectives from sociology political science and the geography of climate change the book explores various approaches to thinking about and responding to the existential threat of an ever warming climate In doing so it lays the foundation for a brave new sustainable world that is socially just highly democratic and climatically safe for humans and other species This book will be of interest to researchers and students studying environmental anthropology climate change human geography sociology and political science

Alan Finkel Alan Finkel,2001* Law and the Regulation of Scientific Research Mark Davies,2022-08-12 Scientific research is fundamental to addressing issues of great importance to the development of human knowledge Scientific research fuels advances in medicine technology and other areas important to society and has to be credible trustworthy and able to command confidence in the face of inevitable uncertainties Scientific researchers must be trusted and respected when they engage with knowledge acquisition and dissemination and as ethical guardians in their education and training roles of future generations of researchers The core values of scientific research transcend disciplinary and national boundaries and approaches to the organisation and oversight of research systems can impact significantly upon the ethics and conduct of researchers This book draws upon legal expertise to critically analyse issues of regulation conduct and ethics at the important interface between scientific research and regulatory and legal environments In so doing it aims to contribute important additional perspectives to the existing literature Case studies are engaged with to assist with the critical analysis of the current position and the consideration of future possibilities The book will be of interest to academics in the fields of science law and policy science and law students and scientific researchers at more advanced stages of their careers Research professionals in government and the private sector and legal practitioners with interests in the regulation of research should also find the work of interest

Climate Change and Capitalism in Australia Hans A. Baer,2021-09-30 Recognizing that climate politics has been an increasingly contentious and heated topic in Australia over the past two decades this book examines Australian capitalism as a driver of climate change and the nexus between the corporations and Coalition and Australian Labor parties As a highly developed country Australia is punching above its weight in terms of contributing to greenhouse gas emissions despite rising temperatures droughts water shortages and raging bushfires storm surges and flooding and the bleaching of the Great Barrier Reef Drawing upon both archival and ethnographic research Hans Baer examines Australian climate politics at the margins namely the Greens the labour union the environmental NGOs and the grass roots climate movement Adopting a climate justice perspective which calls for system change not climate change as opposed to the conventional approach of seeking to mitigate emissions through market mechanisms and techno fixes particularly renewable energy sources this book posits system challenging transitional steps to shift Australia toward an eco socialist vision in keeping with a burgeoning global socio ecological revolution Accessibly written and including an interview with renowned comedian and climate activist Rod Quantock OAM this book is essential reading for academics students and general readers with an interest in climate change and climate activism

California. Court of Appeal (6th Appellate District). Records and Briefs California (State)., Number of Exhibits 2 New York Court of Appeals. Records and Briefs. New York (State)., Globalisation and Education Reforms Joseph Zajda,2018-02-27 This book explores the interrelationship between ideology the state and education reforms placing it in a global context It examines some of the major education reforms and policy issues in a global culture particularly in light of recent shifts in quality and standards driven education and policy research The book critiques the neo liberal ideological imperatives of current education and policy reforms and illustrates the way the shifts in the relationship between the state and education policy affect current trends in education reforms and schooling globally With this as its focus the book s individual chapters highlight hand picked scholarly research on major discourses in the field of comparative education A compendium of the very latest thinking on the subject the book like the other volumes in the series offers a state of the art sourcebook for researchers practitioners and policymakers alike Not only do the chapters offer a timely overview of current issues affecting comparative education and education policy research in what is now a global educational culture they also outline future directions that education and policy reforms could take By doing so they provide a comprehensive picture of the intersecting and diverse discourses of globalisation and policy driven reforms in education Individual chapters critically assess the dominant discourses and debates on education and policy reforms Using diverse comparative education paradigms from critical theory to historical comparative research they address globalisation ideology and democracy and examine both the reasons for and outcomes of education reforms and policy change As such they provide an informed critique of models of quality and standards driven education reforms that are informed by Western dominant ideologies and social values
