Freedom of Thought and Societal Forces Rudolf Steiner, 2008
6 lectures in Ulm Berlin and Stuttgart May 26 December 30 1919 CW 333 Freedom of Thought and Societal Forces offers a broad overview of Steiner's fresh thinking on what he called the threefold social order He acknowledged that the demand for social change derives above all from the working class whom industrialization had forced into a kind of indentured life dominated by economics From Steiner's perspective the underlying issue is not just economic however but also spiritual or cultural culture and the cultured classes have become estranged from real life Society needed a free culture that includes all classes It also needs to shift labor into the legal sphere of rights the only place where workers can find real freedom in society Capital too needs to be liberated from egotism and allowed like goods to circulate freely Above all Steiner understood that social realities cannot be separated from the spiritual realities of human existence From this perspective we lack knowledge of ourselves as spiritual beings and thinking has become abstract To remedy this we must first acknowledge it and then develop modesty and humility Next we must increase our capacity to love one another and the world Approaching this reality from another side we see that what ordinary individual thinking afflicts culture in general which becomes removed from reality Culture like thinking must become alive and universally human This is impossible however unless we develop what Steiner calls freedom of thought Authentic freedom of thought is always ethical and overcomes egotism Indeed a more general exercise of freedom in thought as Steiner conceives it provides a way through the twin dangers of materialism and abstraction that is through ahrimanic and luciferic worldviews which together threaten society in both the narrow sense through nationalism and globally through geopolitics
