Critical Praxis in Student Affairs Susan B. Marine, Chelsea Gilbert, 2023-07-03 Student affairs work like higher education is fundamentally about change Principally the change work performed by student affairs practitioners is about supporting the growth and development of individual students and student groups Increasingly that work has called for practitioners to become more active in working to change higher education so that it lives up to its radically democratic inclusive ideals This means adopting new strategies to transform student affairs staff students and institutions and drawing on insights from critical liberatory theories This text represents an effort to describe and document these practices of intentionally centering critical theories The first section of this text examines the ways that critically minded practitioners lead through equitable liberatory frameworks offering important models for reimagining the future of higher education In the second section the editors take up thinking and acting to support the development of critical consciousness in students providing examples of programs initiatives and student support offices that center social justice in their work and foster a critical lens through their interactions with students In their conclusion the editors provide a model for critical praxis offering enduring strategies for practitioners seeking to incorporate critical socially just praxis into their everyday work and defining areas for future research and praxis including identifying strategies for effective assessment of critical praxis and modalities for scaling up the work for maximal impact Staging Fashion Tiziana Ferrero-Regis, Marissa

Lindquist, 2020-12-10 The fashion show and its spaces are sites of otherness representing everything from rebellion and excess through to political and social activism This conceptual and stylistic variety is reflected in the spaces they occupy whether they are staged in an industrial warehouse on a city street or out in the open landscape Staging Fashion is the first collection of essays about the presentation and staging of fashion in runway shows in the period from the 1960s to the 2010s. It offers a fresh perspective on the many collaborations between artists, architects, and interior designers to reinforce their interdisciplinary links. Fashion, architecture, and interiors share many elements including design history, material culture, aesthetics, and trends. The research and ideas underpinning Staging Fashion address how fashion and the spatial fields have collaborated in the creation of the space of the fashion show. The 15 essays are written by fashion, interior architecture, and design scholars focusing on the presentation of fashion within the runway space from avant garde practices and collaboration with artists to the most spectacular and commercial shows of recent years from Prada to Chanel.
