Drifting Architecture And Migrancy:

Drifting - Architecture and Migrancy Stephen Cairns,2003-11-27 To dwell in these globalizing times requires us to negotiate increasingly palpable flows of capital ideas images goods technology and people Such flows seem to pressurize breach and sometimes even disaggregate the places we always imagined to be distinctive and stable This book is focussed on the interaction of two elements within this contemporary situation The first is the very idea of a place we imagine to be distinctive and stable This idea is explored through architecture the institution that in the West has claimed the responsibility for imagining and producing places along these lines The second element is a particular kind of global flow namely the human flows of immigrants refugees exiles guestworkers and other migrant groups This book carefully inspects the intersections between architectures of place and flows of migrancy It does so without seeking to defend the idea of place nor lament its passing Rather this book is an exploration of the often complex and unorthodox modes of dwelling that are emerging precisely from within the ruins of the idea of place This exploration is informed by critical analyses of architecture and urbanism and their representation in media such as film The book is animated empirically by a set of overlapping and intersecting trajectories that shift from Hong Kong to Canada Australia and Germany from Southern Europe to Australia from Britain to India Canada and New Zealand from Southeast Asia to the Pacific Islands to New Zealand and from Latin America and East Asia to the United States But each geographical context discussed represents only one point within a wider pattern of movement that implicates other localities and so signals the very undoing of a unified geographical logic

The City in Transgression Benedict Anderson,2020-07-27 The City in Transgression explores the unacknowledged neglected and ill defined spaces of the built environment and their transition into places of resistance and residence by refugees asylum seekers migrants the homeless and the disadvantaged The book draws on urban and spatial theory socio economic factors public space and architecture to offer an intimate look at how urban sites and infrastructure are transformed into spaces for occupation Anderson proposes that the varied innovations and adaptations of urban spaces enacted by such marginalized figures for whom there are no other options herald a radical new spatial programming of cities The book explores cities and sites such as Mexico City and London the Mexican US border the Calais Jungle and Palestinian camps in Beirut and utilizes concepts associated with mobility such as anarchy vagrancy and transgression alongside photography 3D modelling and 2D imagery From this constellation of materials and analysis a radical spatial picture of the city in transgression emerges By focusing on the underside of urbanism The City in Transgression reveals the potential for new spatial networks that can cultivate the potential for self organization so as to counter the existing dominant urban models of capital and property and to confront some of the major issues facing cities amid an age of global human mobility This book is valuable reading for those interested in architectural theory modern history human geography and mobility climate change urban design and transformation

Migrant Housing Mirjana Lozanovska,2019-03-01 Migrant Housing the latest book by author Mirjana

Lozanovska examines the house as the architectural construct in the processes of migration Housing is pivotal to any migration story with studies showing that migrant participation in the adaptation or building of houses provides symbolic materiality of belonging and the platform for agency and productivity in the broader context of the immigrant city Migration also disrupts the cohesion of everyday dwelling and homeland integral to housing and the book examines this displacement of dwelling and its effect on migrant housing This timely volume investigates the poetic and political resonance between migration and architecture challenging the idea of the house as a singular theoretical construct Divided into three parts Histories and theories of post war migrant housing House home and Mapping migrant spaces of home it draws on data studies from Australia and Macedonia with literature from Canada Sweden and Germany to uncover the effects of unprivileged post war migration in the late twentieth century on the house as architectural and normative model and from this perspective negotiates the disciplinary boundaries of architecture

Archaeology and History in Roman, Medieval and Post-medieval Greece William Caraher, Linda Jones Hall, R. Scott Moore, 2008 Bringing together studies of archaeological method and analysis with detailed work of historical interpretation the papers here demonstrate how analysis informed by multiple disciplines sheds new light on such important topics as the end of Antiquity the so called Byzantine Dark Ages the contours of the emerging Byzantine civilization and the complex character of identity in post medieval Greece More broadly this volume shows how the study of the material culture of post classical Greece has made significant contributions to both the larger archaeological and historical discourse

Cultural Mobilities Between China and Italy Valentina Pedone, Gaoheng Zhang, 2023-10-11 This book offers a critical analysis of global mobilities across China and Italy in history In three periods in the twentieth century new patterns of physical mobilities and cultural contact were established between the two countries which were either novel at the time of their emergence or impactful on subsequent periods The first two chapters provide overviews of writings by Italians in China and by Chinese in Italy in the twentieth century The remaining chapters cover Republican China s relationships with Italy and Italian Fascist colonialism in China during the 1920s 1930s Italian travelers to China during the Cold War from the 1950s to the 1970s migrations between China and Italy during the 2000s 2010s In analyzing these cultural mobilities this book opens a new line of inquiry in Chinese Italian Cultural Studies which has been dominated by historical study and contributes a significant case study to the scholarship on global cultural mobilities

Doppelgänger Dilemmas Marjorie Rubright, 2014-11-05 The Dutch were culturally ubiquitous in England during the early modern period and constituted London s largest alien population in the second half of the sixteenth century While many sought temporary refuge from Spanish oppression in the Low Countries others became part of a Dutch diaspora developing their commercial spiritual and domestic lives in England The category Dutch catalyzed questions about English self definition that were engendered less by large scale cultural distinctions than by uncanny similarities Doppelgänger Dilemmas uncovers the ways England s real and imagined proximities with the Dutch played a crucial role in the making of English ethnicity Marjorie Rubright explores the tensions of Anglo Dutch relations that emerged in the form of puns double entendres cognates homophones copies palimpsests doppelgangers and other doublings of character and kind Through readings of London's stage plays and civic pageantry English and Continental polyglot and bilingual dictionaries and grammars and travel accounts of Anglo Dutch rivalries and friendships in the Spice Islands Rubright reveals how representations of Dutchness played a vital role in shaping Englishness in virtually every aspect of early modern social life Her innovative book sheds new light on the literary and historical forces of similitude in an era that was so often preoccupied with ethnic and cultural difference

Art, Borders and Belonging Maria Photiou, Marsha Meskimmon, 2021-04-22 Art Borders and Belonging On Home and Migration investigates how three associated concepts house home and homeland are represented in contemporary global art The volume brings together essays which explore the conditions of global migration as a process that is always both about departures and homecomings indeed home makings through which the construction of migratory narratives are made possible Although centrally concerned with how recent and contemporary works of art can materialize the migratory experience of movement and re settlement the contributions to this book also explore how curating and exhibition practices at both local and global levels can extend and challenge conventional narratives of art borders and belonging A growing number of artists migrate some for better job opportunities and for the experience of different cultures others not by choice but as a consequence of forced displacement caused economic or environmental collapse or by political religious or military destabilization In recent years the theme of migration has emerged as a dominant subject in art and curatorial practices Art Borders and Belonging thus seeks to explore how the migratory experience is generated and displayed through the lens of contemporary art In considering the extent to which the visual arts are intertwined with real life events this text acts as a vehicle of knowledge transfer of cultural perspectives and enhances the importance of understanding artistic interventions in relation to home migration and belonging
