Today's Woman in World Religions Arvind Sharma, 1994-01-01 This book examines how the women's movement is affecting traditional religions and civilizations throughout the world. It reviews cases of global impact in Hinduism, Buddhism, Taoism, Confucianism, Judaism, Christianity, Islam, and Australian aboriginal religion. This volume completes the trilogy devoted to women in world religions, edited by Arvind Sharma. The second book in the series is entitled Religion and Women. The present work surveys the position of women in the religious traditions covered in the first volume of the trilogy, Women in World Religions, placing these traditions in contemporary context.

Performing Indigenous Identities on the Contemporary Australian Stage Susanne Thurow, 2019-08-21 Over the past 50 years, Indigenous Australian theatre practice has emerged as a dynamic site for the discursive reflection of culture and tradition, as well as colonial legacies, leveraging the power of storytelling to create and advocate contemporary fluid conceptions of Indigeneity. Performing Indigenous Identities on the Contemporary Australian Stage offers a window into the history and diversity of this vigorous practice. It introduces the reader to cornerstones of Indigenous Australian cultural frameworks and, on this backdrop, discusses a wealth of plays in light of their responses to contemporary Australian identity politics. The in-depth readings of two landmark theatre productions, Scott Rankin's Namatjira (2010) and Wesley Enoch's Anita Heiss: I Am Eora (2012), trace the artists' engagement with questions of community consolidation and national reconciliation, carefully considering the implications of their propositions for identity work arising from the translation of traditional ontologies into contemporary orientations. The analyses of the dramatic texts are incrementally enriched by a dense reflection of the production and reception contexts of the plays, providing an expanded framework for the critical consideration of contemporary postcolonial theatre practice that allows for a well-founded appreciation of the strengths, yet also pointing to the limitations of current representative approaches on the Australian mainstage. This study will be of great interest to students and scholars of Postcolonial Literary Performance and Theatre Studies.

Burning Bush Stephen J. Pyne, 2015-09-14 Pyne traces the impact of fire in Australia from its influence on vegetation to its use by Aborigines and European settlers. Mr. Pyne, showing what a historian deeply schooled in environmental science can contribute to our awareness of nature and culture, has produced a provocative work that is a major contribution to the literature of environmental studies. New York Times Book Review.

21st Century Anthropology: A Reference Handbook H. James Birx, 2010-06-10 Highlighting the most important topics, issues, questions, and debates, these two volumes offer full coverage of major subthemes and subfields within the discipline of anthropology.

Night of the Panther Suzanne Forster, 1992 Fourteen years have passed since Honor Bartholomew betrayed Johnny Starhawk, but he's never forgiven or forgotten. And now, when circumstances force them together again, will he give in to his desire for revenge or his love for the only woman he's ever wanted?
