FMW Creating the Dropout Sherman Dorn,1996-04-30 By the 1960s high schools had become mass institutions saddled with the expectation of universal education for America s youth Ironically with this broadening of clientele and mission came the idea and phenomenon of the dropout The consolidation of a dropout stereotype focused on the presumed dependency and delinquency of dropouts with the resulting programs focusing on guidance and vocational training Why the problem persists is the topic of this study with more constructive perspectives on dropping out

Dropout Leslie Gavel,2017-08 One family s story of coping after their teenage daughter drops out of school and an examination of the public school system itself In the fall of 2000 while in Grade 7 Leslie Gavel s daughter Avery began what would be a four year disengagement from school Avery didn t fit the stereotype of the dropout Why would a privileged middle class adolescent choose this path when dropping out was a social stigma and would complicate her personal life and career choices Leslie began to analyze the school system itself but all of her research led not to answers but to further questions Did school its history structure practice play any role in underachievement Was the problem of marginal or failing grades chronic student dissatisfaction and disruptive classroom behaviour always the fault of the student and by extension her parents or could it be the fault of the school system itself And did dropping out an ultimate taboo for teenagers along with pregnancy and drug abuse really have to mean the end of the world for child and parent Told from the deeply personal perspective of a concerned parent Dropout is a memoir about one family s experience in the public school system It also considers the latest research in alternative approaches to school and offers suggestions for students who may not fit the educational mould or society s definition of success Leslie Gavel a former social worker is a Calgary freelance writer Her work has appeared in Reader s Digest Canadian Living More Today s Parent Avenue and several Canadian and American newspapers and has been produced for CBC national radio Born and raised in Regina she has lived in Calgary for decades Advance praise for Dropout In a courageous act of often painful self disclosure Leslie Gavel exposes the secret massive and most crippling bullying that haunts Western educational systems our abandonment and degradation of students who do not fit our perception of school success Like callous physicians who coldly dismiss patients who have illnesses they don t understand our schools treat non achievers as pariahs as lepers confronting us with things we d rather not see This bullying is even more damaging than peer abuse for struggling kids like Gavel s daughter since the devastating rejection comes not from teenaged jerks but from admired and respected adult authorities This brave book should be required reading for anyone who claims the title of educator and will help parents to bind the wounds of these suffering children and nurture them back to life success and happiness Dr Michael J Bradley author of Yes Your Teen Is Crazy Loving Your Kid Without Losing Your Mind Dropout is not only a ruthlessly honest saga of one family s conflict over school it is also a polemic that rails against a system that cries out for fundamental reform Through research and storytelling Leslie Gavel shows the reader what s wrong with school as it s conducted today which is not unlike how it was conducted one hundred years ago when the goal was to produce workers for factories who d do as they were told Gavel warns something must change or our children will continue to be victims of an oppressive authoritarian institution I wish I d read Dropout before my own kids faced off against our one size fits all educational system Robert W Fuller Ph D former president of Oberlin College

Delinquency and High School Dropouts
Don Drennon-Gala,1995-10-10 Understanding delinquency and reasons why young adolescents disengage in education and later drop out of school has continually puzzled practitioners and theoreticians While there have been works that have focused on delinquency and disengagement in education the role that the family plays on reducing delinquency has generally remained unknown Theoretical concepts that explain the propensities toward delinquent behavior and disengagement in education are discussed comprehensively in this unique book Adopted and cited in the 104th Congress 2nd Session Senate Document 104 20 Page 13 National Debate Topic for High Schools 1996 97 Pursuant to 44 United States Code Section 1333 You may view the full citing at <http://www.access.gpo.gov/congress/sen/rpt/104/20.txt> "Why We Drop Out" Deborah L. Feldman, Antony T. Smith, Barbara L.
