The Starving Artist Myth Mark J. Jones, 2024-08-20 Creative sector jobs are driving our economy and offer a viable career path for today's youth Careers and business opportunities in creative industries offer flexibility variety and security Why then do people hesitate to go into them A belief in the myth of the starving artist which conjures images of penniless writers and artistic bohemians is to blame The myth leads many away from choosing a path they would love in favour of more traditional fields Years later they may come to regret that choice Mark J Jones shows that the persistent stereotype of the starving artist is not just costing youth and working aged people the opportunity to explore satisfying careers it could also cost Canada's economy in lost opportunities Through education and entrepreneurial strategy artists musicians writers media makers designers actors and others can come to understand how to reach audiences and customers in a global market In The Starving Artist Myth Jones erases any remaining doubt about the opportunities in the creative economy by getting at the origin of the starving artist stereotype demonstrating the economic resiliency of the sector and delving into the strategies for achieving career success

The Oxford Handbook of Museum Archaeology Alice Stevenson, 2022-08-25 This Handbook provides a transnational reference point for critical engagements with the legacies of and futures for global archaeological collections It challenges the common misconception that museum archaeology is simply a set of procedures for managing and exhibiting assemblages Instead this volume advances museum archaeology as an area of reflexive research and practice addressing the critical issues of what gets prioritized by and researched in museums by whom how and why Through twenty eight chapters authors problematize and suggest new ways of thinking about historic contemporary and future relationships between archaeological fieldwork and museums as well as the array of institutional and cultural paradigms through which archaeological enquiries are mediated Case studies embrace not just archaeological finds but also archival field notes photographic media archaeological samples and replicas Throughout museum activities are put into dialogue with other aspects of archaeological practice with the aim of situating museum work within a more holistic archaeology that does not privilege excavation or field survey above other aspects of disciplinary engagement These concerns will be grounded in the realities of museums internationally including Latin America Africa Asia Oceania North America and Europe In so doing the common heritage sector refrain best practice is not assumed to solely emanate from developed countries or European philosophies but instead is considered as emerging from and accommodated within local concerns and diverse museum cultures
