Beecham A Centenary Discography:

Beecham Michael H. Gray, 1979 Early Sound Recordings Eva Moreda Rodriguez, Inja Stanović, 2023-02-28 The use of historical recordings as primary sources is relatively well established in both musicology and performance studies and has demonstrated how early recording technologies transformed the ways in which musicians and audiences engaged with music This edited volume offers a timely snapshot of a wide range of contemporary research in the area of performance practice and performance histories inviting readers to consider the wide range of research methods that are used in this ever expanding area of scholarship The volume brings together a diverse team of researchers who all use early recordings as their primary source to research performance in its broadest sense in a wide range of repertoires within and on the margins of the classical canon from the analysis of specific performing practices and parameters in certain repertoires to broader contextual issues that call attention to the relationship between recorded performance and topics such as analysis notation and composition Including a range of accessible music examples which allow readers to experience the music under discussion this book is designed to engage with academic and non academic readers alike being an ideal research aid for students scholars and performers as well as an interesting read for early sound recording enthusiasts Dennis Brain Stephen Gamble, William C. Lynch, 2011 The British horn player Dennis Brain 1921 1957 is commonly described by such statements as the greatest horn player of the 20th Century a genius and a legend He was both a prodigy and popularizer famously performing a concerto on a garden hose in perfect pitch On his usual concert instrument his tone was of unsurpassed beauty and clarity complemented by a flawless technique The recordings he made with Herbert von Karajan of Mozart's horn concerti are considered the definitive interpretations Brain enlisted in the English armed forces during World War II for seven years joining the National Symphony Orchestra in wartime in 1942 After the war he filled the principal horn positions in both the Philharmonia and Royal Philharmonic Orchestras He later formed his own wind quintet and began conducting Composers including Benjamin Britten and Paul Hindemith lined up to write music for him Even fifty years after his tragic death at the age of 36 in an auto accident in 1957 Peter Maxwell Davies was commissioned to write a piece in his honor Stephen Gamble and William Lynch have conducted numerous interviews with family friends and colleagues and uncovered information in the BBC archives and other lesser known sources about recordings that were previously unknown This volume describes Brain's life and analyzes in depth his musical career Its appendices of information on performances will appeal to music historians and its details on Brain's instruments and equipment will be useful to horn players The London Philharmonic Discography, 1997-01-21 This great London orchestra made its debut in a recording session shortly before its first public concert in 1932 and now has well over a thousand recordings to its credit All are dated and detailed for the first time in this meticulous study researched from primary sources Commercial sessions account for most of the 1300 entries but the main chronological sequence also includes live recordings and videos Copious indexing allows access to the main chronological listings via performers repertoire record companies or locations The study can also be read as a cross section of the work of the classical recording industry Appendixes cover film soundtracks recordings made by the London Philharmonic Choir independently of the orchestra controversial attributions and principal players in the orchestra Indexes of and notes on the recorded repertoire conductors who have recorded with the orchestra and the studios halls and churches used as recording venues are supplemented by a comprehensive general index of soloists singers including full casts of operas producers engineers and recording companies giving easy access to a wealth of information most of which has previously been unpublished
