Paul Felix Lazarsfeld

Continuities In The Language Of Social Research:

Continuities in the Language of Social Research Paul Felix Lazarsfeld,1972 Continuities in the Language of Social Research Paul Felix Lazarsfeld,Morris Rosenberg,1972 On Social Research and Its Language Paul F.

Lazarsfeld,1993-11-15 The eighteen essays in On Social Research and Its Language illustrate the diversity of Lazarsfeld's substantive methodological and organizational interests. Spanning the years 1933 to 1972 they encompass his own works of social research as well as writings on methodology and the history and sociology of social research. Articles on methodology, observing, classifying and building typologies, analyzing the relations between variables, qualitative analysis and macrosociology form the bulk of the book. In addition, Raymond Boudon provides a revealing biography of Lazarsfeld and his influence on sociology. Publisher description Language, Loyalty, Continuity and Change Rakhmiel Peltz, Harold F.

Schiffman,2006-01-01 This short volume provides a comprehensive and synoptic view of Joshua A. Fishman's contributions to international sociolinguistics. The two integrative essays provide readers with the essential understandings of Fishmanian sociolinguistics and his contributions to Yiddish scholarship. An up-to-date comprehensive bibliography prepared by Gella Schweid, Fishman as well as Fishman's own concluding sentiments complement the integrative essays. Change and

Continuity in Applied Linguistics British Association for Applied Linguistics. Meeting,2000 The papers in this volume are a selection from those given at the 1999 BAAL Annual Meeting held at Edinburgh whose theme was Change and Continuity in Applied Linguistics. As well as offering a varied sample of current applied linguistics research, they provide a stimulating discussion of a wide range of views on fundamental questions about the nature and development of the discipline: What is applied linguistics? Where has it come from? What are its interests, data and methods? Who is it for? And how is it changing, especially in its views of language learning, society and teaching. Constructing Narratives of Continuity and Change

Hazel Reid, Linden West,2014-08-27 In this volume, academics and researchers across disciplines including education, psychology and health studies come together to discuss personal, political and professional narratives of struggle, resilience and hope. Contributors draw from a rich body of auto-biographical research to examine the role of narrative and how it can be constructed to compose a life story, considering the roles of significant others, inspirational, educational and fictional characters, and those in myth and legend. The book discusses how personal narrative, often neglected in social and psychological enquiry, can be a valuable resource across a range of settings. Reference is made to the evolving role of narrative in education and health care, medicine and psychotherapy. This includes how particular narratives are hardwired into culture in ways that stifle personal and social understanding. Rather than providing a how-to guide, the book illustrates the range and power of narrative, including poetry, to re-awaken senses of self and agency in extremis. Each chapter draws on specific research, describing the context, explaining the methodology and illuminating important findings. Discussing implications for research and practice, this book will be key reading for postgraduate and doctoral students in auto biographical and narrative studies and across a range of disciplines including education health and social care politics counselling and psychotherapy It will be of interest to academics teaching research methods and those developing biographical and auto biographical narrative research

Transition and Continuity in School Literacy Development Pauline Jones,Erika Matruglio,Christine Edwards-Groves,2021-11-18 This book addresses a significant gap in the research literature on transitions across the school years the continuities and discontinuities in school literacy education and their implications for practice Across different curriculum domains and using social semiotic ethnographic and conversation analytic approaches the contributors investigate key transition points for individual students literacy development elements of literacy knowledge that are at stake at each of these points and variability in students experiences Grounding its discussion in classroom voices experiences and texts this book reveals literacy specific curriculum demands and considers how teachers and students experience and account for these evolving demands The contributors include a number of established names such as Freebody Derewianka Myhill Rowsell Moje and Lefstein as well as emerging scholars gaining increasing recognition in the field They draw out implications for how literacy development is theorized in school curriculum and practice teacher education further research and policy formation In addition each section of the book features a summary from an international scholar who draws together key ideas from the section and relates these to their current thinking They deploy a range of different theoretical and methodological approaches in order to bring rich yet complementary perspectives to bear on the issue of literacy transition
