A contract. A baby. It was supposed to be as simple as that. Ryan always gets what he wants. And what he wants is a sibling for his son after his wife's untimely death. The last thing that Ryan's looking for is a relationship, especially with someone who isn't remotely interested in him or in raising this baby. But there's something about Lexi she ignites a fire inside of him, one that's not easy to put out. It has always been Lexi's dream to go to college. But in her family, a Bachelor's degree is a pipe dream. And then Ryan came along with his offer. It's unusual, yes. But the money would make all of her dreams come true and give her a real shot at making something of herself. Besides, what could go wrong?

Transforming Agriculture in South Asia Ashok K. Mishra, Anjani Kumar, Pramod K. Joshi, 2020-12-30

Debates about public expenditure in the agricultural sector have reopened in many developing and emerging economies because of high budget deficits and changes in public opinion. As a result, agricultural policy in many of these countries is beginning to take a more market-oriented approach to agrarian problems, most notably through the introduction of contract farming. This book explores the policy issues around contract farming and its transformative potential and addresses the lack of empirical research on this topic by focusing on South Asia, principally India, Bangladesh, and Nepal. The book first addresses the effects of contract farming: vertical coordination on productivity, food security indicators, yield, consumption, expenditures, prices, employment, and input usage. Then it draws lessons from the South Asian case studies on the impact of institutional changes like contract farming on income and food security of smallholder households. The core of the book includes case study chapters on several commodities that are produced under contract farming, including vegetables and fisheries in Bangladesh, low-value crops in Nepal, and coffee in India. Other chapters also explore contracts, storage, input usage, and technical efficiency in these cases. This book serves as an essential guide to academics, researchers, students, legislative liaisons, and think tank groups interested in agrarian issues, agricultural economics, and agricultural policy in emerging economies and particularly in South Asia.
