Control Of Dual Threat Agents The Vaccines For Peace Programme:

Control of Dual-threat Agents Erhard Geissler, John P. Woodall, 1994 The Vaccines for Peace VFP program is designed to counter international reservations about the possible military misuse of vaccine research It focuses on vaccines developed to combat those pathogens and toxins that can be used as weapon agents In this timely collection experts from fields as diverse as biotechnology vaccinology international law and diplomacy debate the VFP program Conversion of Former BTW Facilities Erhard Geissler, Lajos G. Gazsó, Ernst Buder, 2012-12-06 The development production stockpiling and use in war of biological and toxin weapons are prohibited by international law Although not explicitly stated the two treaties outlawing such activities the Geneva Protocol of 1925 and the Biological and Toxin Weapons Convention of 1972 prohibit the continuation of activities previously performed in Biological and Toxin Weapons facilities not justified for prophylactic protective or other peaceful purposes Because conversion and other means of cessation of former BTW facilities are not explicitly addressed in the treaties mentioned above the problems involved in conversion of BTW facilities have thus far only been discussed marginally in the open literature In times of increased awareness of the danger of biological and toxin warfare including the increased danger of terrorist use of biological and toxin weapons it seemed necessary to us to invite experts from different parts of the world to discuss the pros and cons of conversion and the problems involved It also became obvious to us that the conversion of former BTW facilities should be discussed with respect to the necessity of peaceful international cooperation in areas related to the Biological and Toxin Weapons Convention An additional reason to discuss matters of peaceful cooperation is that cooperation is explicitly requested by Article X of the Biological and Toxin Weapons Convention High-Impact Terrorism Russian Academy of Sciences, National Research Council, Policy and Global Affairs, Development, Security, and Cooperation, Office for Central Europe and Eurasia, Committee on Confronting Terrorism in Russia, 2002-06-14 In June 2001 the National Academies and the Russian Academy of Sciences held a bilateral workshop in Moscow on terrorism in a high technology society and modern methods to prevent and respond to it The purpose of the workshop was to begin a dialogue on high impact terrorism that could lead to further U S Russian collaboration This volume includes papers presented at the workshop by 31 Russian and American experts on various types of high impact terrorism including biological and agricultural terrorism nuclear and electromagnetic terrorism explosives chemical and technological terrorism and cyber terrorism The papers also address legal issues Russian internal affairs and the future of international cooperation in this area Annals of the New York Academy of Sciences Thomas Lincoln Casey, Gilbert Van Ingen, Charles Lane Poor, Edmund Otis Hovey, Ralph Winfred Tower, 1993 Records of meetings 1808 1916 in v 11 27 Biological Warfare D.B. Rao, 2001 The population of the world of today is faced by a challenge that could threaten even its survival in the near future because of biological weapons and warfare Biological weapons are not difficult to produce relatively easy to hide and in the hands of unscrupulous desperate terrorists could cause incredible damage to large populations anywhere in the world The use of biological weapons in war and or otherwise as a means of mass destruction may lead to manmade epidemics that will introduce bioengineered agents into the human populations animals and plants which will have a devastating effect on living organisms and world economy Confronted with this menace the Biological Weapons Convention has singled out biological weapons for categorical prohibition To protect humans animals and plants from microbial diseases a revolutionary approach to develop effective vaccines against epidemic causing agents and certainly against biological weapon agents is needed Chemical and Biological Warfare Eric Croddy,1997 Covers the history of this form of warfare information on chemical agents themselves as well as regulation controls and disposal policies Scientific research on CBW extending as far back as 1940 is organized under categories of CBW agents and their corresponding subheadings
