Contemporary Supervision:

The Contemporary Relational Supervisor Robert E. Lee, Thorana S. Nelson, 2013-07-18 The Contemporary Relational Supervisor is an empirically based academically sophisticated and learner friendly book on the cutting edge of couple and family therapy supervision. Appropriate for master's and doctoral level students as well as experienced clinicians who wish to learn about supervision, it emphasizes system and relational thinking and intervention while privileging the diversity of training system members, their realities, experiences, and interpretations of life. The authors are attuned throughout the text to how and where clinical training and services are provided and to whom, and provide detailed literature reviews for readers. These factors assist their discussion of the socio-historic development of the AAMFT supervision designation and the fundamentals, contexts, philosophy, relationships, and pragmatics of CFT supervision. They also discuss major models and approaches, evaluation, ethical and legal issues, and therapist development. Perhaps most important is their presentation of methods that help tailor and extend supervision practices to meet the clinical, institutional, and economic realities that CF therapists navigate. Readers are engaged by the discussions and exercises at the end of each chapter, which help them to feel more grounded in a topic, have their own voices heard, and to be granted insight through experiencing multiple realities. This valuable reference prepares the next wave of cutting edge CFT supervisors: those who are knowledgeable, skilled, and realistically confident.

Contemporary Practices in Social Work Supervision Trish Hafford-Letchfield, Lambert Engelbrecht, 2020-06-05 This book is a timely review of scholarship in social work supervision, re-examining the state of knowledge, research, and practice, and asking if it is time for a new paradigm for the field. The contributors present a universal paradigm in social work around what we understand social work to be, not only through its practice of supervision but also what this contributes to the challenge of any dominant ideas or ideals about the supervision agenda in an increasingly globalized social work context. Capturing new developments from different regions of the world, the book shows how these can inform critical practice, professional development, and well-being, and have a wider impact on accountability, effectiveness, and work performance. The book will be appreciated by people needing or using services, novice or learner social workers, and those responsible for training or educating in supervision, knowledge, and skills, or preparing to take up this important role. With applications for both academic research and practitioner-based learning, this book will help to ensure the best quality and supportive practice within the workforce and community it serves. This book was originally published as a special issue of the European Journal of Social Work.

A Contemporary Approach to Clinical Supervision Liat Shklarski, Allison Abrams, 2021-07-11 The most critical and influential relationship affecting one's growth as a mental health professional is the relationship between the clinician and the supervisor. Good supervisors breed good therapists. This book goes beyond facts and figures to provide an innovative perspective on the supervision process. Through contributions by seven supervisees and the supervisor, they all shared, readers are offered a rare glimpse into what takes place during the supervision hour. This book not only offers insight into the elements integral to effective supervision but also teaches about the supervisory relationship. With contributors from various disciplines, theoretical orientations, and cultures, it shows how the supervisee and supervisor are able to navigate these differences while still gaining the most from supervision. Topics that are covered include cultural competence in multicultural supervision and remote supervision when it is conducted between clinicians in different countries, as well as an original study by the authors on the experiences of supervisees during the global Covid-19 pandemic and the transition to remote supervision. For mental health professionals who are training to be supervisors or experienced supervisors looking to improve their skills, this book will serve as an invaluable resource for professional development.

The Contemporary Relational Supervisor 2nd edition Robert E. Lee, Thorana S. Nelson, Toni S.

Zimmerman, 2021-08-11. The Contemporary Relational Supervisor 2nd edition is an empirically based, academically sophisticated, and learner-friendly text on the cutting edge of couple and family therapy supervision. This extensively revised second edition provides emerging supervisors with the conceptual and pragmatic tools to engage a new wave of therapists, helping them move forward together into a world of highly systemic, empirically derived, relational, developmental, and integrative supervision and clinical practice. The authors discuss major supervision models and approaches, evaluation, ethical, and legal issues, and therapist development. They present methods that help tailor and extend supervision practices to meet the clinical, institutional, economic, and cultural realities that CFT therapists navigate. Filled with discussions and exercises to engage readers throughout, as well as updates surrounding telehealth and social justice, this practical text helps emerging therapists feel more grounded in their knowledge and develop their own personal voice. The book is intended for developing and experienced clinicians and supervisors intent on acquiring up-to-date and forward-looking systemic CFT supervisory mastery. Contemporary Clinical Social Work Supervision Carlton E. Supervision in Social Work Liz Beddoe, Jane Maidment, 2017-10-02

Supervision is currently a hot topic in social work. The editors of this volume, both social work educators and researchers, believe that good supervision is fundamental to the development and maintenance of effective practice in social work. Supervision is seen as a key vehicle for continuing development of professional skills, the safeguarding of competent and ethical practice, and oversight of the wellbeing of the practitioner. As a consequence, the demand for trained and competent supervisors has increased, and a perceived gap in availability can create a call for innovation and development in supervision. This book offers a collection of chapters which contribute new insights to the field. Authors from Australia and New Zealand, where supervision inquiry is strong, offer research-informed ideas and critical commentary with a dual focus on supervision of practitioners and students. Topics include external and interprofessional supervision, retention of practitioners, practitioner resilience, and innovation in student supervision. This book will be of interest to supervisors of both practitioners and students and is highly relevant to social work academics. This book was originally published as a special issue of Australian Social Work.

Paradigm Debates in Curriculum and Supervision Linda Behar-Horenstein, Jeffrey Glanz, 2000-01-30

Paradigm debates in the educational research community are a frequent if not common occurrence How do paradigm debates in other educational fields such as curriculum and supervision shape educators understanding and practice In this volume it is suggested that educators adherence to particular views of curriculum and supervision is influential in guiding their beliefs and subsequent actions For example a widely accepted belief is that if an individual adopts a mechanistic view of the curriculum then s he is likely to deliver a curriculum grounded in pre established objectives and evaluate student achievement in relationship to formulated objectives Postmodernists contend that such educators are bound by rigid bifurcation and a constrictive linear logic In supervision educational leaders who favor leadership styles comprised by autocratic behaviors tend to create school climates that favor a top down approach to human relationships Autocratic leaders rely on hierarchical organizational structures and styles that seek to instill compliance and subordination Yet prospective administrators who want concrete proposals put in practice find modern perspectives of supervision helpful In contrast postmodern supervisors allege that such leaders disallow the emergence of relevant and authentic relationships that might occur when conventional hierarchical structures are diminished and open lines of communication between teachers students administrators become normative The chapters in this book present an in depth analysis of how an individual s predisposition towards modern and postmodern views of curriculum and supervision are likely to influence

- 1 curriculum development
- 2 teaching styles
- 3 leadership styles
- 4 teacher and student evaluation and
- 5 the missions intrinsic to the creation of professional preparation programs that serve to promulgate existing practice or create a new order of teachers and administrator

The Supervisory Assemblage Elizabeth J. Done, 2014-09-26 In this unique book Liz Done undertakes an affective thought provoking nomadic inquiry into the doctoral process in which she engages with the writings of Deleuze Cixous Nietzsche Foucault and many others The paradox of learning as thoroughly relational but simultaneously implying the radical specificity of every learner s experience is unpacked in a text that is careful to explain the ideas and theories that are mobilised As a pedagogic intervention the book seeks to raise questions not answer them but ultimately offers a very powerful statement about the value of education as learning and its capacity to transform a life Academic production is revealed as a situated embedded relational and complex process The book s rhizomatic threads include transgressing linear neopositivist models doing something different with theory the importance of free experimentation and memory as both mobility and freedom Braidotti s nomadic subjectivity and Gannon s refusal to be pinned down in a bid for intellectual purity were also mobilised in the writing of this text It performs the inclusive potential of Deleuzian and feminist poststructuralist thought insisting on a scholarship that is about open inquiry ad venture and learning as multiplicity It is untimely as Deleuze might say in its contemporary relevance
