Contemporary Pacific Societies Studies In Development And Change:

Contemporary Pacific Societies Victoria S. Lockwood, Thomas G. Harding, Ben J. Wallace, 1993 The twenty one articles in this text describe and analyze contemporary political social and economic issues in the three culture areas of Oceania Polynesia Micronesia and Melanesia Chapters are written by noted specialists in all areas and are well mixed regionally and topically to give a broad perspective on contemporary change and development in the Pacific Islands For social scientists working throughout Oceania and all those interested in contemporary Pacific cultures A Clash of Paradigms:

Response and Development in the South Pacific Suan Maiava, 2024-11-01 This title was first published in 2001 This study indicates that researchers have far to go in understanding and assessing how development projects work The author shows that often the perception of failure is not shared by those whom were intended to benefit She uses a case study of Samoan villagers introduced to cattle farming to examine the wider development process and challenge the conventional theories By drawing on people centred perspectives that give much greater weight to the role of culture in development the volume does not simply criticize development project management but suggests practical and positive ways forward encouraging spontaneous indigenous development which should be supported by projects where appropriate Tahitian

Transformation Victoria S. Lockwood, 1993 As culturally diverse non Western communities are drawn into the international division of labour capitalism takes root in a number of ways This book describes how capitalism has become a part of the lives of rural Tahitians starting with the arrival of Westerners to the islands and detailing the nature of the transformation brought about by missionaries merchants and French colonisers a transformation whose pace has accelerated with the islands rapid modernisation and incorporation into the French welfare state Urbanisation in the Island Pacific John

Connell, John Lea, 2002-09-26 Managing rapid urban growth presents a significant challenge in the small independent countries of the Pacific Islands Although they originated in colonial times the towns and cities are now distinctively post colonial with economies environments and social structures that reflect unique island characteristics This transformation has stimulated new concerns such as the causes and effects of pollution the need for employment for landless migrants the need for adequate and affordable housing and the financing of expanding urban services This book explores the diversity of the urban experience in the ten independent island states focusing on strategies to secure long term sustainable development

Identity and Development Paul van der Grijp, 2021-11-22 Identity and Development presents a remarkable record of Tonga s increasing participation in the modern global economy and provides anthropologists economists and historians with a detailed case study that bears heavily on major issues of the day both practically and theoretically The book focuses on issues of identity entrepreneurship and the intricacies of development and addresses the question How in the current state of the economy can a Tongan become a successful grower This question is set against the background of a boom in cash cropping sparked by a burgeoning export trade with Japan JCAS Symposium Series ,1997 Small Worlds, Global

Lives Russell King, John Connell, 1999-10-01 Geologists most from Australia and Britain but with some outliers from continental Europe and North America focus on small islands where the scarcity of people and resources make migration substantially important socially and economically The topics include the Azores historical cultural and literary perspectives on emigration from the minor islands of Ireland Nevis and the post war labor movement in Britain islands and the migration experience in the fiction of Jamaica Kincaid from dystopia to utopia on Norfolk Island Tongans online the changing contours of migrant Samoan kinship and finding a retirement place in sunny Corfu Pacific Studies : a Journal Devoted to the Study of the Pacific-its Islands and Adjacent Countries ,2001 Pacific Studies ,2001 Annual Editions Elvio

Angeloni, 1997 Anthropology contains a variety of articles on contemporary issues in social and cultural anthropology

Women and Men Nancy Bonvillain, 2007 A cross cultural study of gender roles and relationships this book presents a synthesis of a wide range of ethnographic and historical data concerning the roles of women and men in wide range of different kinds of societies with a focus on both material conditions and ideological valuations that affect and reflect cultural models of gender First looks at the impact of material conditions on gender roles Foragers Farmers Agricultural States Industrial Economy The United States and Women and Global Economic Development Then explores ideological constraints on gender constructs Gender and the Body Gender and Religion Gender and Language For anyone interested in gender roles from an anthropological sociological and psychological perspective Contemporary Migration in Oceania Ken'ichi Sudō, Shūji Yoshida, 1997 Sociocultural Issues and Economic Development in the Pacific Islands ,1996 Journal of

Ritual Studies ,2001 Women's Studies Research Handbook University of Waterloo, 1990 Aid, Ownership and Development John Overton, Warwick Murray, Gerard Prinsen, Tagaloa Ulu, Nicola Wrighton, 2018-08-06 One of the key principles for effective aid programmes is that recipient agencies exert high degrees of ownership over the agendas resources systems and outcomes of aid activities Sovereign recipient states should lead the process of development Yet despite this well recognised principle the realities of aid delivery mean that ownership is often compromised in practice Aid Ownership and Development examines this inverse sovereignty hypothesis with regard to the states and territories of the Pacific Island region It provides an initial overview of different aid regimes over time maps aid flows in the region and analyses the concept of sovereignty Drawing on a rich range of primary research by the authors and contributors it focuses on the agencies and individuals within the Pacific Islands who administer and apply aid projects and programmes There is indeed evidence for the inverse sovereignty effect particularly when island states and their small and stretched bureaucracies have to deal with complex and burdensome donor reporting requirements management systems consultative meetings and differing strategic priorities This book outlines important ways in which Pacific agencies have proved adept not only at meeting these requirements but also asserting their own priorities and ways of operating It concludes that global agreements such as the Paris Declaration on Aid Effectiveness in 2005 and the recently launched Sustainable Development

Goals can be effective means for Pacific agencies to both hold donors to account and also to recognise and exercise their own sovereignty     Agriculture and Tourism Linkages on Niue Island Joseph William Marcotte,2003     Pacific Collection
Acquisitions List University of Hawaii at Manoa. Library. Pacific Collection,1993     The Unseen City Michael Bruce Goddard,2005 Based on the fieldwork of an anthropologist among people in Port Moresby s much maligned migrant settlements It addresses the contemporary situation of these urban peoples displacing popular generalizations with more detailed accounts which do justice to their resilience and creative responses to the challenges of living in a burgeoning
Melanesian city     Islands on the Net Michael Ray Ogden,1993
