Angel Of The Anzacs:

Angel of the Anzacs Carole Van Grondelle, 2000 Nora Luxford's life spanned the twentieth century and circled the globe taking her from turn of the century Hawke's Bay to Hollywood's golden age and the elite circles of New York society She became well known in New Zealand for her radio broadcasts but it was the Anzac club which touched the lives of thousands of young New Zealand and Australian servicemen that she considered was her greatest achievement ANZACS on the Western Front Peter Pedersen, 2018-02-14 A newly updated lavishly illustrated account of the ANZACs involvement in the Western Front complete with walking and driving tours of 28 battlefields With rare photographs and documents from the Australian War Memorial archive and extensive travel information this is the most comprehensive guide to the battlefields of the Western Front on the market Every chapter covers not just the battles but the often larger than life personalities who took part in them Following a chronological order from 1916 through 1918 the book leads readers through every major engagement the Australian and New Zealanders fought in and includes tactical considerations and extracts from the personal diaries of soldiers Anzacs On The Western Front The Australian War Memorial Battlefield Guide is the perfect book for anyone who wants to explore the battlefields of the Western Front either in person or from the comfort of home It does far more than show where the lines that generals drew on their maps actually ran on the ground and retrace the footsteps of the men advancing towards them It is a graphic and wide ranging record of the Australian and New Zealand achievements and of the huge sacrifices both nations made in what is still arguably the most grueling episode in their history A complete guide to the ANZAC battlefields on the Western Front featuring short essays on important personalities and events details on relevant cemeteries museums memorials and nearby places of interest and general travel information Carefully researched and illustrated with colorful maps and both modern and period photographs Includes information about the Sir John Monash Centre near Villers Bretonneux in France a new interpretative museum set to open on Anzac Day 2018 coinciding with the centenary of the Year of Victory 1918 Anzacs On The Western Front The Australian War Memorial Battlefield Guide is the perfect book for historians history buffs military enthusiasts and Australians and New Zealanders who want to explore the military history and battlefields of their heritage Imperishable Anzacs H. W. Cavill, 1916 With the Anzacs in Egypt David Doull, 1916 Safe Marriage Ettie Annie Rout, 1923 The New Generation, 1922 Journal of the Royal Australian Historical Society Royal Australian Historical Society, 1928 Includes Annual report and statement of accounts Shooting Blanks at the Anzac Legend Dr Donna Coates, 2023-11-01 War is traditionally considered a male experience By extension the genre of war literature is a male dominated field and the tale of the battlefield remains the privileged and only canonised war story In Australia although women have written extensively about their wartime experiences their voices have been distinctively silenced Shooting Blanks at the Anzac Legend calls for a re definition of war literature to include the numerous voices of women writers and further recommends a re reading of Australian national literatures with women's war writing foregrounded to break the hold of a male dominated literary tradition and pass on a vital but unexplored women's tradition

Shooting Blanks at the Anzac Legend examines the rich body of World Wars I and II and Vietnam War literature by Australian women providing the critical attention and treatment that they deserve Donna Coates records the reaction of Australian women writers to these conflicts illuminating the complex role of gender in the interpretation of war and in the cultural history of twentieth century Australia By visiting an astonishing number of unfamiliar non canonical texts Shooting Blanks at the Anzac Legend profoundly alters our understanding of how Australian women writers have interpreted war especially in a nation where the experience of colonising a frontier has spawned enduring myths of identity and statehood

Ettie Jane Tolerton, 1992 She was the guardian angel of the Anzacs according to a French veneriologist To a bishop she was the wickedest woman in Britain Soldiers described her as a saint Their mothers regarded her as an agent of the devil Six decades before the term safe sex was coined Ettie Rout went to war to protect soldiers from venereal disease In Paris she ran a complete social and sexual welfare service for the Amzac soldiers of World War One collecting them on the station platform guiding them to Madame Yvonne's brothel which she regularly inspected looking after the sick and running a counselling service Her prophylactic kit was adopted by both the New Zealand and Australian governments But although all New Zealand soldiers going on leave were handed a copy of her kit her own country made her persona non grata The French on the other hand awarded her the medal they struck for the English martyr Edith Cavell

Book flap Celluloid Anzacs Daniel Reynaud, 2007 The cinema has transmitted the Anzac legend with extraordinary emotive power Here is the first extended study of how the Great War Anzac legend has been portrayed in Australian film and television productions over 80 years Celluloid Anzacs traces the evolving image from its origins as a derivative of British military myths to the controversial early days of its Australian identity in the years between the world wars when the legend adopted its comic lean bushman as its archetypal hero and then into the nationalistic fervour of the 1980s where the legend finally acquired its exclusively Australian identity and sharp anti British edge By building the story into the broader Australian context the book shows how films have shaped and been shaped by one of Australia's most cherished defining national mythologies
