Capet,2006-10-10 This collection gathers many of the best known names in the field of Anglo French relations and provides an authoritative survey of the field Starting with the crucial period of the First World War and ending with the equally complex question of the second Iraq War the study has an emphasis on British perceptions of the Entente French Music in Britain 1830-1914 Paul Rodmell,2020-11-26 French Music in Britain 1830 1914 investigates the presence reception and influence of French art music in Britain between 1830 roughly the arrival of grand opera and op ra comique in London and the outbreak of the First World War Five chronologically ordered chapters investigate key questions such as Where and to whom was French music performed in Britain in the nineteenth century How was this music received especially by journal and newspaper critics and other arbiters of taste What characteristics and qualities did British audiences associate with French music Was the presence and reception of French music in any way influenced by Franco British political relations or other aspects of cultural transfer and exchange Were British composers influenced by their French contemporaries to any extent and if so in what ways Placed within the wider social and cultural context of Britain s most ambiguous and beguiling international relationship this volume demonstrates how French music became an increasingly significant part of the British musician s repertory and influenced many composers This is an important resource for musicologists specialising in Nineteenth Century Music Music History and European Music It is also relevant for scholars and researchers of French Studies and Cultural Studies June 1940, Great Britain and the First Attempt to Build a European Union Andrea Bosco,2016-06-22 June 2016 represents a significant moment in British history The decision to leave the European Union at the most critical period since its existence could bring unpredictable and far reaching consequences both for the United Kingdom and the Union itself June 1940 was also a turning point in British history On the afternoon of 16 June a few hours before the French Government opted for the capitulation Churchill made on behalf of the British Government an offer of indissoluble union When a sceptical Churchill put forward to the British Cabinet the text of the declaration drafted by Jean Monnet Sir Arthur Salter and Robert Vansittart he was surprised at the amount of support it received The Cabinet adopted the document with some minor amendments and de Gaulle who saw it as a means of keeping France in the war telephoned Reynaud with the proposal for an indissoluble union with joint organs of defence foreign financial and economic policies a common citizenship and a single War Cabinet The proposal however never reached the table of the French Government The spirit of capitulation embodied in Weygand and P tain prevailed and France submitted herself to the German will for the second time in seventy years After the Munich crisis Great Britain had to face the danger of another European war with the inevitable loss of the Empire and it was at this point that the country first began to favour the application of the federalist principle to Anglo French relations In this conversion to federalism a fundamental role was played by the Federal Union the first federalist movement organised on a popular basis The contribution of Federal Union to the development of the federal idea in Great Britain and Europe was to express and organise the beginning of a new political militancy and it represented the first step of a historical process the overcoming of the nation State the modern political formula which institutionalises the political division of mankind This study principally examines the first eighteen months of the Federal Union during which time it was able to raise itself to the attention of the general public and the political class as the heir of the League of Nations Union The research is based on extensive unpublished archival material found across the globe from London Oxford Brighton and Edinburgh to Washington Paris and Geneva
