Animal Sacrifices Religious Perspectives On The Use Of Animals In Science:

The ^AEthics of Animal Experimentation Donna Yarri, 2005-08-18 The ethical treatment of animals has become an issue of serious moral concern Many people are challenging long held assumptions about animals and raising questions about their status and treatment What is the relationship between humans and animals Do animals have moral standing Do we have direct or indirect duties to animals Does human benefit always outweigh animal suffering The use of animals for experimentation raises all of these questions in a particularly insistent way Donna Yarri gives an overview of the current state of the discussion and presents an argument for significantly restricted animal experimentation Pointing to the similarities between humans and animals she argues that the actual differences are differences of degree rather than kind Animal cognition and animal sentience together are the basis for the claim that experimental animals do have rights Examining arguments in the disciplines of ethology philosophy science and theology Yarri makes a case for placing substantial restrictions on animal experimentation Grounding her examination in Christian theology she formulates a more humane approach to animal experimentation She concludes with a concrete burden benefit analysis that can serve as the foundation for informed decision making The Ethics of Animal Experimentation serves as both a handbook of animal rights theory and a practical guide to navigating the complexities of animal experimentation As animal experimentation features in an increasing number of scientific endeavors it is an ethical issue that requires our immediate attention Yarri's unique contribution forges a path toward an ethical practice of animal experimentation

Animal Sacrifice and Religious Freedom David M. O'Brien, 2004 The Santeria religion of Cuba the Way of the Saints mixes West African Yoruba culture with Catholicism Similar to Haitian voodoo Santeria has long practiced animal sacrifice in certain rites But when Cuban immigrants brought those rituals to Florida local authorities were suddenly confronted with a controversial situation that pitted the regulation of public health and morality against religious freedom After Ernesto Pichardo established a Santeria church in Hialeah in the 1980s the city of Hialeah responded by passing ordinances banning ritual animal sacrifice Although on the surface those ordinances seemed general in intent they were clearly aimed at Pichardo's church When Pichardo subsequently sued the city a federal court ruled in the latter's favor in effect privileging the regulation of public health and morality over the church's free exercise of its religion The U S Supreme Court heard Pichardo's appeal in 1993 and unanimously decided that the city had overstepped its bounds in targeting this particular religious group however the court was sharply divided regarding the basis of its decision Three concurring opinions registered distinctly different views of the First Amendment the limits of government regulation and the religious freedom of minorities In the end the nine justices collectively concluded that freedom of religious belief was absolute while the freedom to practice the tenets of any faith were subject to non discriminatory local regulations David O'Brien one of America's foremost scholars of the Court now illuminates this controversy and its significance for law government and religion in America His lively account takes us behind the scenes at every stage of the litigation to reveal a riveting case with more twists and turns than a classic whodunit Ranging with equal ease from primitive magic to municipal politics and to the most arcane points of constitutional law O'Brien weaves a compelling and instructive tale with a fascinating array of politicians lawyers jurists civil libertarians and animal rights advocates Offering sharp insights into the key issues and personalities he highlights cultural clashes large and small while maintaining a balance for both the needs of government and the religious rights of individuals The Santeria case reaffirmed that our laws must be generally applicable and neutral and may not discriminate against particular religions Tracing the path to that conclusion Animal Sacrifice and Religious Freedom provides a provocative and learned account of one of the most unusual and contentious religious freedom cases in American history Perspectives on Science and Christian Faith

,2005 Animal Rights Cass R. Sunstein,Martha C. Nussbaum,2004-04-01 Cass Sunstein and Martha Nussbaum bring together an all star cast of contributors to explore the legal and political issues that underlie the campaign for animal rights and the opposition to it Addressing ethical questions about ownership protection against unjustified suffering and the ability of animals to make their own choices free from human control the authors offer numerous different perspectives on animal rights and animal welfare They show that whatever one's ultimate conclusions the relationship between human beings and nonhuman animals is being fundamentally rethought This book offers a state of the art treatment of that rethinking

Animal Lives through Five Centuries of Art and Science Ruth Y.Y. Hung,2026-01-20 Animal Lives through Five Centuries of Art and Science confronts a deep paradox humanity's greatest achievements in art science and philosophy have often relied on the systematic subjugation of animals This pioneering interdisciplinary work traces how Western knowledge systems have turned animal suffering into spectacle and commodity from Renaissance anatomy theaters where Leonardo da Vinci painted ermines as symbols of purity while their real world counterparts were skinned for aristocratic fashion to today's genetically engineered GloFish Through six compelling case studies including the extinction of the quagga Victorian vivisection debates and industrial farming Ruth Y Y Hung shows how the same imagination fueling cultural progress has also been used to justify domination Drawing on thinkers from Erich Auerbach to Donna Haraway the book offers a radical rethinking of knowledge itself It reveals that animals have only been understood through frameworks that either aestheticize or erase their lives Yet amid these histories of violence moments of resistance appear the defiant stare of a vivisected dog Indigenous cosmologies honoring ecological kinship and Buddhist deer challenging human centered views Hung advocates for interspecies reimagination urging a shift from extraction to reciprocity and calls on readers to develop a new ethics where knowledge serves rather than controls life Animal Sacrifices Tom Regan,1986 The issues of animal rights and the use of animals in scientific experimentation are fraught with controversy In an effort to define the bases of such strong emotional response towards an ethical issue this book presents the teachings of the major religions of the world concerning animals and more specifically their use in science Judaism Christianity Islam Hinduism Jainism Buddhism and Confucianism are represented in this collection of eight essays by religious authorities Scriptural writings written and oral tradition law religious parables and even folklore are used to illustrate the position of each religion on this question When there are no specific teachings regarding the relatively recent use of animals in scientific research conclusions are derived from the view of man s relations with the rest of the world In addition to the essays dealing with specific religions there is also a chapter detailing recent uses of animals in scientific research throughout the world It is estimated that 500 million animals a year are sacrificed to science This volume attempts to find out for what purposes they are used under what conditions and with what legal protection Based on a conference which explored the views of religion toward scientific experimentation on animals this collection of essays addresses an explosive issue from a number of different perspectives Animal Sacrifices is a fair minded and informative discussion of a contemporary ethical dilemma Contributors John Bowker Sidney Gendin Rabbi Dr J David Bleich Andrew Linzey James Gaffney Al Hafiz B Z Masri Basant K Lal Christopher Chapple Rodney L Taylor and the editor Animal Sacrifices Tom Regan,2010-10-29 Presents the teachings of the major religions of the world concerning animals and their use in science Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association ,1988 Food for Thought Steve F. Sapontzis,2004-05 After an introduction to the nature of the debate by editor Steve F Sapontzis seven sections examine the finer points of the subject The first section reviews the history of vegetarianism The discussion in the second section highlights the health issues and what anthropology has to tell us about human diet Section three includes classic cases for and against vegetarianism and new essays rebutting these classic arguments The fourth section examines religious teachings about eating animals drawn from Judaism Christianity and Islam as well as Native American and Eastern traditions Finally in the last three sections the authors debate the ethics of eating meat in connection with feminism environmentalism and multiculturalism Wild Animals and American Environmental Ethics Lisa Mighetto,1991 Human attitudes toward animals have followed an interesting progression since the conservation movement began in the mid 19th century This book traces the changing patterns of human perceptions of wild animals through a study of the literature of the late 19th and 20th centuries Photographs as well as literary references from such authors as Jack London John Muir and Rachel Carson are used to illustrate people s attitudes toward wildlife The author does not argue either for or against the animal rights movement She advocates acceptance of animals as they are and tries to combat the human centeredness that has pervaded our thinking about the animal kingdom This well written volume would be an interesting addition to environmental collections in academic libraries Amazon com Lib J review Animal Rights Vs. Nature Walter Egner Howard,1990 The Dark Face of Science John Vyvyan,1988 Cornell Law Review ,2004 Judaism and Ecology Hava Tirosh-Samuelson,2002 This volume intends to contribute to the nascent discourse on Judaism and ecology by clarifying diverse conceptions of nature in Jewish thought and by using the insights of Judaism to formulate a constructive Jewish theology of nature The Human Use of Animals Tom L. Beauchamp,2008 The first edition of The Human Use of Animals offered the first set of case studies on animal use through sixteen original previously unpublished essays Whereas the first edition strongly emphasized research issues the second edition now adds material on conversation concerns and the use of animals in entertainment specifically cases on endangered species zoos circuses and sport fighting As with the first edition the cases are presented in an objective and balanced way that will spark reasoned debate about moral issues Extensively revised and updated the second edition maintains a commitment to a discussion of ethical reflection and analysis concerning human interactions with animals

The Struggle Over the Past William M. Shea, 1993 The Struggle Over the Past contains essays on three facets of fundamentalist religion its international character its American Protestant form and its appearance in Roman Catholicism The papers range in methodological perspective from textual commentary to history to philosophical and theological argument They are critical as well as descriptive The papers that comprise this volume are written by leading scholars in the field Islamicist John Esposito R Scott Appleby of the Fundamentalist Project theologian Francis Fiorenza of Harvard Divinity School William Dinges of Catholic University Mary Jo Weaver of Indiana University and Terrence Tilley of the Florida State University Additional commentary by three noted scholars of American evangelical religion Samuel Hill Jr E Glenn Hinson and Bernard Ramm rounds out the examination of modern fundamentalism Co published with the College Theology Society

Buddhism and Ecology Mary Evelyn Tucker, Duncan Ryuken Williams, 1997 The authors explore theoretical and methodological issues and analyze the prospects and problems of using Buddhism as an environmental resource in both theory and practice Philosophy, Humanity, and Ecology: Philosophy of nature and environmental ethics H.
