Creating A Dialectical Social:

Creating a Dialectical Social Science I.I. Mitroff, R.O. Mason, 2012-12-06 The depth intensity and long standing nature of the disagreements between differing schools of social thought renders more critical than ever the treatment of dialectical reasoning and its relationship to the social sciences The nature of these disagreements are deeply rooted in fundamentally differing beliefs regarding among many things 1 the nature of man 2 the role of theory versus data in constructing social theories 3 the place and function of values versus facts in inquiry etc It has become more and more apparent that such fundamental differences cannot be resolved by surface appeals to rationality or to consensus Such for it is precisely the definitions of appeals are doomed to failure rationality and consensus that are at odds That is different schools not only have different definitions of rationality and consensus but different notions regarding their place and function within a total system of inquiry A dialectical treatment of conflicts is called for because such conflicts demand a method which is capable of recognizing first of all how deep they lie Secondly a method is demanded which is capable of appreciating that the various sides of the conflict fundamentally depend on one another for their very existence they depend in other words on one another not in spite of their opposition but precisely because of it Creating a dialectical social science Ian I. Mitroff, Richard O. Mason, 1981 Creating a dialectical social science Ian L. Mitroff, Richard O. Mason, 1981 Dialectic Special Pedagogy Louise Bøttcher, Charlotte Mathiassen, 2024-11-28 This book offers theoretical and practical discussion on the inclusion of students with disabilities and learning impairments within the learning environments and beyond It explores how social relations and social activities can support the personal and social transitions of children young people and adults in need of specialized support Written by academics based in Australia Canada Denmark the Netherlands and the UK the contributors take a cultural historical and dialectical approach as a starting point for special pedagogy This approach enables special pedagogy to rise above biological essentialist environmental social training and purely sociological approaches and to focusing on development as a psychological as well as a social phenomenon The chapters cover a range topics including deaf education primary and secondary disabilities play mediation incarcerated youth and mental illness The contributors draw heavily on psychologist Lev Vygotsky s work and his notion of the zone of proximal development Dialectical Social Science in the Age of Complexity Ian Trevor King, 2001 This study places dialectical thinking theory and method on a solid scientific footing with respect to the contemporary sciences of holistic relationism and offers a competing even superior philosophy of social science to the mainstream version of positivistic behaviourism It also indicates ways in which a dialectical holistic relational social science will help to shape a more democratic humane style of politics and public policy It subjects mainstream social science to wholesale reorientation and in doing so offers a valid prescription for a post positivistic post behaviourist social science that is scientifically grounded Foundations of Critical Media and Information Studies Christian Fuchs, 2011-03-01 Foundations of Critical Media and Information Studies lays down foundations for the analysis of media information and information technology in 21st century information society as well as introducing the theoretical and empirical tools necessary for the critical study of media and information Christian Fuchs shows the role classical critical theory can play for analyzing the information society and the information economy as well as analyzing the role of the media and the information economy in economic development the new imperialism and the new economic crisis The book critically discusses transformations of the Internet web 2 0 introduces the notion of alternative media as critical media and shows the critical role media and information technology can play in contemporary society This book provides an excellent introduction to the study of media information technology and information society making it a valuable reference tool for both undergraduate and postgraduate students of subjects such as Media Studies Sociology of Media Social Theory and New Media

Dialectical Perspectives in Philosophy and Social Science Pasquale N. Russo,1983 The Routledge International Handbook of Dialectical Thinking Nick Shannon,Michael F. Mascolo,Anastasia Belolutskaia,2024-07-23 The Routledge International Handbook of Dialectical Thinking is a landmark volume offering a multi disciplinary compendium of the research theory and practice that defines dialectical thinking its importance and how it develops over the lifespan For the first time this handbook brings together theory and research on dialectical thinking as a psychological phenomenon from early childhood through the human lifespan Grounding dialectical thinking in multiple philosophical traditions stemming from antiquity it explores current psychological models of such thought patterns and shows how these can be applied in everyday life and across multiple disciplines including philosophy physics mathematics and international relations The handbook explains the nature of dialectical thinking why it is important and how it can be developed in children and in adults It concludes with a final chapter depicting a discussion among the authors exploring the question how could dialectical thinking be the antidote to dogma Written by a group of international scholars this comprehensive publication is an essential reference for researchers and graduate students in psychology and the social sciences as well as scholars interested in integrating different perspectives and issues from a wide variety of disciplines
