Creating The Welfare State In Urban France 1880 1940:

Creating the Welfare State in France, 1880-1940 Timothy Beresford Smith, 2003 In this work Timothy Smith argues that although post World War II politicians have attempted to take credit for the creation of the welfare state the social reform movement in France actually grew out of World War I Smith shows that French social spending before World War II was well above the European average and demonstrates that the present welfare state is based on a structure that already existed but was expanded and consolidated with great political fanfare during the 1940s Smith shows that France's most important social legislation to date providing medical insurance maternity benefits modest pensions and disability benefits to millions of people was passed in 1928 and amended and put into practice in 1930 This law covered over 50 per cent of the population by 1940 Few other nations could have claimed this sort of social insurance success As well by 1937 the centuries old public assistance residency requirements had been transferred from the local to the departmental regional level France's success in introducing important social reforms may require us to rethink the common view of interwar France as a time of utter political economic and social failure

Radio and the Politics of Sound in Interwar France, 1921-1939 Rebecca P. Scales, 2016-02-24 In December 1921 France broadcast its first public radio program from a transmitter on the Eiffel Tower In the decade that followed radio evolved into a mass media capable of reaching millions Crowds flocked to loudspeakers on city streets to listen to propaganda children clustered around classroom radios and families tuned in from their living rooms Radio and the Politics of Sound in Interwar France 1921-1939 examines the impact of this auditory culture on French society and politics revealing how broadcasting became a new platform for political engagement transforming the act of listening into an important if highly contested practice of citizenship Rejecting models of broadcasting as the weapon of totalitarian regimes or a tool for forging democracy from above the book offers a more nuanced picture of the politics of radio by uncovering competing interpretations of listening and diverse uses of broadcast sound that flourished between the world wars

Paris and the Spirit of 1919 Tyler Edward Stovall, 2012-03-22 This history of Paris in 1919 explores the global implications of French political activism at the end of World War I

Nineteenth-Century Europe Michael Rapport, 2018-08-11 A core introductory textbook that provides students with an overview of the key issues in Europe's long nineteenth century from the French Revolution in 1789 until the outbreak of the First World War in 1914 Telling the story of how Europeans entered politics in the fiery trials of revolution and industrialization the text opens with the French Revolution passes through the crucible of the 1848 Revolutions and ends with the emergence of mass movements socialist revolutionary nationalist and authoritarian which anticipated those of the twentieth century This is an ideal text for modules on Modern European History or Nineteenth Century Europe which may be offered at all levels of an undergraduate History or European Studies degree In addition it is a crucial resource for students who may be studying nineteenth century Europe for the first time as part of a taught postgraduate degree in Modern History or European Studies

Multiracial Identities

in Colonial French Africa Rachel Jean-Baptiste,2023-06-08 Explores the history of race making belonging and rights by outlining the contested place of multiracial people in colonial French West and Equatorial Africa Voluntary Organisations, the Red Cross, and the Features of Humanitarian Reconstruction in Western Europe after the World Wars Romain Fathi,Melanie Oppenheimer,Paul-André Rosental,2025-06-11 This book explores the ways in which non government organisations have contributed to the reconstruction of and care for populations in Western European countries including but not limited to Belgium France Germany Italy and the United Kingdom in the aftermath of the World Wars Historical research on voluntary or non government organisations and their contribution to the reconstruction of states communities and humanitarian assistance to civilian populations following conflicts epidemics and disasters through the twentieth century has generally focused on non Western European countries except for Second World War II The historiography suggests that it is mostly in Eastern Europe the Middle East Asia and Africa that natural or man made disasters have occurred and that these places have been the focus for humanitarian assistance Rather the humanitarian enterprise is viewed through the binary of the Global North Global South those who save and those who are saved The chapters in this volume investigate how the Red Cross movement the League of Red Cross Societies the International Committee of Red Cross and individual national societies and other voluntary organisations such as the Rockefeller Foundation and a range of other international and local non government bodies have contributed to reconstruction in these countries at both national and local levels following times of crises such as wars civilian upheavals and disasters This book will appeal to scholars and students of history humanitarian studies international relations and social sciences The chapters in this book were originally published as special issues in European Review of History Revue européenne d'histoire

Workers in Hard Times Leon Fink,Joseph A. McCartin,Joan Sangster,2014-02-15 Seeking to historicize the 2007 2009 Great Recession this volume of essays situates the current economic crisis and its impact on workers in the context of previous abrupt shifts in the modern day capitalist marketplace Contributors use examples from industrialized North America South America Europe Asia and Australia to demonstrate how workers and states have responded to those shifts and to their disempowering effects on labor Since the Industrial Revolution contributors argue factors such as race sex and state intervention have mediated both the effect of economic depressions on workers lives and workers responses to those depressions Contributors also posit a varying dynamic between political upheaval and economic crises and between workers and the welfare state The volume ends with an examination of today s Great Recession its historical distinctiveness its connection to neoliberalism and its attendant expressions of worker status and agency around the world A sobering conclusion lays out a likely future for workers one not far removed from the instability and privation of the nineteenth century The essays in this volume offer up no easy solutions to the challenges facing today s workers Nevertheless they make clear that cogent historical thinking is crucial to understanding those challenges and they push us toward a rethinking of the relationship between capital and labor the waged and unwaged and the employed and jobless Contributors are Sven Beckert Sean Cadigan Leon Fink Alvin Finkel Wendy Goldman Gaetan Heroux Joseph A McCartin David Montgomery Edward Montgomery Scott Reynolds Nelson Melanie Nolan Bryan D Palmer Joan Sangster Judith Stein Hilary Wainright and Lu Zhang

Communities under Fire Alex Dowdall,2020-04-22 Between 1914 and 1918 the Western Front passed through some of Europe s most populated and industrialised regions Large towns including Nancy Reims Arras and Lens lay at the heart of the battlefield Their civilian inhabitants endured artillery bombardment military occupation and material hardship Many fled for the safety of the French interior but others lived under fire for much of the war ensuring the Western Front remained a joint civil military space Communities under Fire explores the wartime experiences of civilians on both sides of the Western Front and uncovers how urban communities responded to the dramatic impact of industrialized war It discusses how war shaped civilians personal and collective identities and explores how the experiences of military violence occupation and forced displacement structured the attitudes of civilians at the front towards the rest of the nation Drawing on a vast array of archival sources letters diaries and newspapers in English French and German it reveals the history of the Western Front from the perspective of its civilian inhabitants From Leningrad to Warsaw Hamburg and more recently Sarajevo and Donetsk urban violence has remained a feature of warfare in Europe turning cities into battlefields On each occasion civilian populations were at the heart of military operations and forced to adapt to life in a warzone This was also the case between 1914 and 1918 despite the myth that the First World War was predominantly a soldiers war The civilian inhabitants of the Western Front were among the first to suffer the full impact of modern industrialized war in an urban setting Communities under Fire explains the multiple ways by which these urban residents responded to were changed by succumbed to or survived the enormous pressures of life in a warzone place. À cet égard, bien que la part de la main d'œuvre féminine ait partout augmenté, les mesures et facteurs politiques ayant une incidence sur l'emploi féminin varient sensiblement d'un pays à l'autre. L'auteur s'est donné trois tâches : d'abord donner une vue d'ensemble des informations existantes sur la nature de l'emploi féminin et les politiques sociales qui s'y rapportent, notamment les grilles utilisées pour tenter de classer les politiques nationales par type de régime politique. Ensuite, étudier les possibilités qui s'offrent aux femmes lorsqu'elles ne peuvent pas prendre un travail rémunéré. Enfin, envisager une recherche qui tente de dégager les caractéristiques nationales des politiques touchant l'emploi des femmes. Elle conclut par quelques réflexions sur la manière dont l'emploi féminin peut déboucher sur une plus grande égalité des sexes. L'unité thématique du document vient de l'attention portée aux liens entre la politique sociale, les caractéristiques de l'emploi féminin et l'égalité entre hommes et femmes. Empiriquement, l'accent a été mis sur les pays développés.
