

God's creation of day and night

Day 1 of creation: And God said, "Let there be light," and there was light. God saw that the light was good, and he separated the light from the darkness. God called the light "day," and the darkness he called "night." And there was evening, and there was morning—the first day.

God's creation of the sea and the sky

Day 2 of creation: And God said, "Let there be a vault between the waters to separate water from water." So God made the vault and separated the water under the vault from the water above it. And it was so. God called the vault "sky." And there was evening, and there was morning—the second day.

God's creation of land and vegetation

Day 3 of creation: Then God said, "Let the land produce vegetation: seed-bearing plants and trees on the land that bear fruit with seed in it, according to their various kinds." And it was so. The land produced vegetation: plants bearing seed according to their kinds.

God's creation of the sun, moon, and stars

Day 4 of creation: And God said, "Let there be lights in the vault of the sky to separate the day from the night, and let them give light on the earth." So God made two great lights—the greater light to rule the day and the lesser light to rule the night, and he placed them in the vault of the sky to give light on the earth.

God's creation of birds and fish

Day 5 of creation: He then said, "Let the water be filled with living creatures, and let birds fly across the sky." So God created the great creatures of the sea—the whales and the many-winged birds. God blessed them and said, "Be fruitful and fill the water in the seas, and let the birds increase on earth."

God's creation of humans and animals

Day 6 of creation: "Let us make mankind in my image, in my likeness, so that they may rule the sea fish and the winged birds, over livestock and all wild animals, and over all the creatures along the ground."

Creation And Interpretation:

The Days of Creation Andrew J. Brown, 2019-05-21 The Days of Creation examines the history of Christian interpretation of the seven day framework of Genesis 1:1-3 in the Hebrew Bible Old Testament from the post apostolic era to the debates surrounding Essays and Reviews 1860 Included in the survey are patristic medieval Renaissance Reformation eighteenth century Enlightenment and finally early to mid nineteenth century interpretations of the days of creation The author shows that readings of Genesis 1:1-3 in the modern era have much deeper roots than is sometimes realized The day age scheme has roots in Augustine's figurative creation days the world week historical scheme Renaissance Platonism and Newtonian science while the literal alternative of the gap theory combines ancient literal interpretation with chaos concepts derived from Greco Roman myths and interpreted through a geological lens Early treatments of this text are poorly understood because of their very different philosophical and theological contexts Hasty appropriation of ancient precedents as support for modern interpretations often overlooks or oversimplifies this difference Changing ideas and exploration in the early Modern era undermined the dominance of this text so that by the time of Goodwin's essay in Essays and Reviews Genesis 1:1-3 was already well on the way to its present intellectual marginalization This study enables an insight into the mighty career of a biblical text of seminal importance and fills a significant niche in reception historical research Since the Beginning Kyle R. Greenwood, 2018-09-04 Few passages in the Hebrew Bible have been subject to more scrutiny than Genesis 1 and 2 In this volume a diverse international team of experts guides readers through interpretations of the Genesis creation stories throughout history inviting them to consider perspectives from the earliest times to the present The book offers an accurate description of how these chapters have been read through the centuries explaining each interpretive approach in its own terms Each chapter includes sidebars and suggestions for further reading The Creation of Heaven and Earth George H. van Kooten, 2004-12-01 This volume discusses the narrative of the creation of heaven earth and light in the first chapter of Genesis and focuses extensively on its later interpretations in different cultural and religious contexts After an introductory paper on the text of Genesis itself the authors deal with receptions of this theme in the Prophet Jeremiah Early Judaism and the Dead Sea Scrolls They comment on creation accounts in the Ancient Near East Ancient Greece and ancient philosophy reconstructing the earliest known receptions of Genesis 1 in ancient philosophers like Numenius and Galen They trace its influence in the Johannine Petrine and Pauline traditions of Early Christianity and follow it right through the Middle Ages up till the present day discussion of design in Nature Creation, New Creation and Biblical Interpretation Matthew J. McIntosh, 2000 Creation and Scientific Explanation W. P. Carvin, 1988 The Biblical Creation Narrative Martin Sicker, 2006 The Biblical Creation Narrative explores a number of key interpretive issues that emerge from the text such as the question of whether it speaks of creation from nothing the significance of the divine name used in the narrative the distinctions between the terms created made and formed that are used to describe the creative process and the meaning of the assertion that God rested on the seventh day as well as some of the political implications of the narrative

The Beginning and Before: Interpreting Creation in Paul and Philo, 2010 God's creative activity in the beginning is important to Paul Yet Paul's care for and interpretation of it is often unrecognized occasionally denied typically left underdeveloped and sometimes interpreted wrongly This thesis approaches Paul as an interpreter of his sacred scriptural texts concerning creation It compares his reading of creation in 1 and 2 Corinthians and Romans with those more detailed treatments of the same texts by Philo of Alexandria in his commentary on Genesis 1:2 De Opificio Mundi The central thesis is this Paul's interpretation of creation like Philo's in his commentary contains three interwoven aspects the beginning of the world the beginning of humanity and God's intentions before the beginning Chapter 1 Before the Beginning explores Philo's view that God's pre-creational plan involves an architectural blueprint of the universe which enables goodness and beauty and Paul's view that it involves a crucified Christ and a glory to which God-lovers are redeemed through conformity with this Christ's image There we will demonstrate that for Paul as for Philo the Before both affects and is affected by his reading of Genesis creation texts Chapter 2 The Beginning of the World establishes how Philo and Paul consider the ontological nature of heaven earth and their inhabitants to be beautiful and glorious due to perfect accord with God's word intentions and desires i.e. an implicit Before Chapter 3 The Beginning of Humanity investigates how Philo and Paul set the more particular creation of humanity within the larger context of the creation of the world and how recognizing this aids in our own interpretation of some often misunderstood aspects of their views of Adam God's pre-creational purpose and desire is also an integral aspect of both interpreters treatments of the creation of humanity Paul like Philo displays three tightly woven strands within his interpretation of the Beginning

The Expository Times, 1890 Practical Handbook for the Study of the Bible and of Bible Literature Michael Seisenberger, 1911 The Origin of Humanity and Evolution Andrew Ter Ern Loke, 2022-06-16 Addressing the intense debate in science and religion in light of evolutionary population genetics Andrew Ter Ern Loke argues that the theory of evolution as understood by mainstream scientists is compatible with Scripture Loke asserts that resolving this area of perceived conflict would greatly benefit both scientific and religious communities and contribute to the spiritual quest of humankind Whilst affirming that the Bible should be interpreted according to proper hermeneutical principles such as considering the literary genre literary context meaning of words grammatical relationship and the background and concerns of the ancient authors this book also assesses the scientific data according to proper mainstream scientific methodology Having accomplished these tasks it proposes a model which argues that all humans today have Adam as common ancestor even though this ancestor is not our sole ancestor

The Creation of Man Thomas H. Sj Tobin, 2023-12-07 This monograph a revised form of a 1980 Harvard dissertation is a study of Philo's interpretation of the creation of man in Genesis 1:3 and specifically in 1:27 and 2:7 Tobin approaches this study with two particular questions 1 what were the exegetical traditions available to Philo and what were Philo's own developments and contributions and 2 what was the philosophical milieu of the period in Alexandria and how did this influence both the traditions and their use by Philo Very early in the book Tobin establishes the two basic criteria which he will use in determining which interpretations are Philo's own and which are those of his predecessors Pre Philonic interpretations are 1 those which Philo tells us directly are not his own and 2 those which clash with a position which spans the entire Philonic corpus and thus can be identified as Philo's own A Jewish Interpretation of the Book of Genesis Julian Morgenstern, 1920 The Harvard Theological Review, 1913 Creation in Paul and Philo Jonathan D. Worthington, 2011 God's creative activity in the beginning is important to many aspects of Paul's theology Jonathan Worthington explores Paul's protology by analyzing his interpretation of scripture concerning creation mainly the beginning of Genesis By examining Paul's exegetical manoeuvres within 1 2 Corinthians and Romans and by comparing these with the contemporary but more detailed treatments of the same texts by Philo of Alexandria in his formal commentary on Genesis 1 2 De Opificio Mundi the author uncovers an approach to creation that is fundamental to both ancient interpreters Paul's interpretation of creation like Philo's in his commentary contains three interwoven aspects the beginning of the world the beginning of humanity and God's intentions before the beginning Recognizing this basic hermeneutical interplay between the Beginning and the Before facilitates a more appropriate comparison between Paul and Philo as well as a more adequate treatment of difficult and debated passages in both interpreters regarding creation A Critical and Exegetical Commentary on the Epistles to the Ephesians and to the Colossians Thomas Kingsmill Abbott, 1897 Creation's Testimony to Its God, the Accordance of Science, Philosophy, and Revelation. A Manual of the Evidences of Natural and Revealed Religion with Especial Reference to the Progress of Science and Advance of Knowledge Thomas Ragg, 1877 God and Mental Causation Daniel Lim, 2015-06-15 This book lies at the intersection of philosophy of mind and philosophy of religion and operates on the assumption that dialogue between the two disciplines can be fruitful In particular it focuses on how debates in the philosophy of mind regarding the nature of mental causation relate to debates in the philosophy of religion regarding divine action creaturely causation and existence of God The book is divided into two parts The first deals with Jaegwon Kim's so called Supervenience Argument SA against non reductive physicalism One important observation is that the structural similarities between non reductive physicalism and orthodox theism make it convenient to co-opt non reductive physicalist solutions to the SA in defending the possibility of creaturely causation in the philosophy of religion The SA is used as a foil to discuss the relative merits of Malebranche's so called Conservation is Continuous Creation Argument for Occasionalism CCCA Moverover the so called compatibilist strategy Karen Bennett 2003 2009 for developing a non reductive physicalist response to the Supervenience Argument is defended and developed This strategy is then deployed in the philosophy of religion to defend the possibility of creaturely causation against the CCCA Systematic Theology Augustus Hopkins Strong, 1889 Systematic Theology Strong, 1886 Notes, Explanatory and Practical, on the Epistles of Paul Albert
