Creative Aging Marjory Zoet Bankson, 2010-02-01

Discover Your Unique Gift. Creative aging is a choice. If we remember that transition always begins with endings, moves on to a wilderness period of testing and trying, and only then do we reach the beginning of something new, then we can embrace this encore period of life with hope and curiosity, remembering always that it is our true nature to be creative, to be always birthing new ways of sharing our planet together. From the Epilogue: In a practical and useful way, Marjory Zoet Bankson explores the spiritual dimensions of retirement and aging. She offers creative ways for you to share your gifts and experience, particularly when retirement leaves you questioning who you are when you are no longer defined by your career. Drawing on stories of people who have reinvented their lives in their older years, Bankson explores the issues you need to address as you move into this generative period of life: Release (Letting go of the vocational identity associated with your career or primary work), Resistance (Feeling stuck, stagnant, resisting change), Reclaiming (Drawing energy from the past, discovering unused gifts), Revelation (Forming a new vision of the future), Crossing Point (Moving from stagnation to generativity), Risk (Stepping out into the world with new hope), Relating (Finding or creating new structures for a new kind of work).

Beading—The Creative Spirit Rev. Wendy Ellsworth, 2012-02-25. Find Your Creative Self in the Kaleidoscope of Beads. Color beading and my spiritual path are intricately interwoven. It would be difficult for me to separate the two because they are so completely intertwined with one another. As I sit and weave with my beads, I allow the Creative Spirit to flow through me, and though my hands are doing the work, another force is actively participating in the process. This force is a transmission of Spirit that fills me with deep inner peace and joy as I bead. As a result, the practice of my art form has become a creative path to my sacred center. From the Introduction: Believing that beading is a form of meditation through which we can access the Creative Spirit that is always present in us, master bead artist Rev. Wendy Ellsworth offers multiple ways to explore beading as a spiritual journey of self-discovery. Each of the seven chapters is rich with personal stories, exercises, and beading projects, and each project has a meditative experience to encourage a contemplative spirit and creative play. The project results are beautiful, meaningful.
