Raiding and Defence in Early Medieval Britain Erik Grigg, 2018-05-21 Warfare Raiding and Defence in early medieval Britain is an examination of warfare in the period AD400 850 often called the Dark Ages which is roughly the period between the end of Roman rule and the arrival of large Viking armies It uses written sources archaeological evidence and surviving features in the landscape to analyse the nature of warfare in those days paying particular attention to the large defensive earthworks typical of the period Luckily these earthworks survive long after the warriors have turned to dust their locations in the landscape are mute witness to the nature of early medieval warfare This period helped forge and mould the nations of modern Britain This book shows that raiding was the driving force behind the political cultural and linguistic changes that affected post Roman Britain and provides a picture of how raids and counter raiding measures worked in practice

Discovering a Welsh Landscape Ian Brown, 2004 In the far north east corner of Wales a line of hills looks east across the plain into England guarding the way towards Snowdonia Designated an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty the Clwydian Range has a very rich archaeology This beautifully illustrated book tells the story of this landscape a history of Wales in microcosm At the northern end of the Welsh March the Clwydian Range is a crossroads a place where outside influences have always been profound The book consequently places the Range s archaeology in the context of the broader themes in Welsh and British history We learn of the mammoth bones left in the area s caves by Paleaeolithic hunters the great chain of Iron Age hillforts that crown the Range the bronze brooches in Romano British burials from the medieval period motte and bailey castles and Gothic churches the watercourses mines and engine houses of the industrial era the Range s links with the great poet Gerard Manley Hopkins Throughout the photographs capture the spirit of Hopkins original landscape plotted and pieced The Clwydian Range is perhaps typical of Britain where places have a great depth of historical connections This book shows how much there is to be discovered Ian Brown formerly County Heritage Officer for Clwyd managed the Clwydian Range Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty Mick Sharp and Jean Williamson are two of Britain s leading archaeological and landscape photographers *Последнее слово. WAR IN HISTORY Michael Prestwich The mounted armoured knight is one of the most potent symbols of medieval civilisation indeed for much of the middle ages the armoured warhorse was what defined a man as a member of the military class However despite the status of the knightly warrior in medieval society the military service of the later medieval English aristocracy remains an unaccountably neglected subject and the warhorse itself has never attracted a major study based upon archival sources This book seeks to open up new fields of research it focuses on the horse inventories documents which offer detailed lists of men at arms and their appraised warhorses the valuation of which is a measure of its owner's social and military status Dr Ayton is primarily concerned with the inventories and related records for Edward III's reign a period which witnessed significant changes in the organisation of the English fighting machine The documents produced during this period of military revolution cast valuable light on the character and attitudes of the aristocratic military community at a time when its traditional role was in the course of re-evaluation Dr ANDREW AYTON is senior lecturer in history at the University of Hull
