

THE CRAFTY READER

A stack of five colorful books is positioned to the right of the word 'CRAFTY'. The books have spines of different colors: green, orange, pink, blue, and yellow. The text 'THE CRAFTY READER' is written in a teal, rounded, sans-serif font. 'THE' is smaller and positioned above 'CRAFTY'. 'CRAFTY' and 'READER' are larger and stacked vertically.

the perspectives and methodologies used to address them The psychology of aesthetics and the arts is one of the oldest areas of psychology but it is also one of the fastest growing and most exciting areas This is a comprehensive and authoritative handbook featuring essays from some of the most respected scholars in the field

Literary Intention, Literary Interpretations, and Readers John Maynard, 2009-04-17 This accessible personal and provocative study returns to the major subject in literary discussion before and during the relatively recent flourishing of literary theory that of literary intention Does the author's personal intention or historical site determine a correct interpretation of a literary work Probing the entire range of issues connected with this many faceted and knotty concept this book engages with interpretation on both theoretical and practical levels It argues that the hard questions about interpretation connected to issues of intention cannot be sidestepped or ignored It does not argue for conservative concepts of literature itself nor against the major historical engagements of critics in our time But in addressing those who continue to read or teach literature it does insist on a level of sophistication in issues of literary interpretation that cannot be assured by historical research and knowledge of the social and cultural connections to literary works The overall aim of the work is to recall readers to the great complexity pleasure and interest of literary interpretation

The Crafty Reader Robert Scholes, 2008-10-01 I believe that it is in our interest as individuals to become crafty readers and in the interest of the nation to educate citizens in the craft of reading The craft not the art This book is about that craft from the Introduction This latest book from the well known literary critic Robert Scholes presents his thoughtful exploration of the craft of reading He deals with reading not as an art or performance given by a virtuoso reader but as a craft that can be studied taught and learned Those who master the craft of reading Scholes contends will justifiably take responsibility for the readings they produce and the texts they choose to read Scholes begins with a critique of the New Critical way of reading bad for poets and poetry and really terrible for students and teachers of poetry using examples of poems by various writers in particular Edna St Vincent Millay He concludes with a consideration of the strengths and weaknesses of the fundamentalist way of reading texts regarded as sacred To explain and clarify the approach of the crafty reader the author analyzes a wide ranging selection of texts by figures at the margins of the literary and cultural canon including Norman Rockwell Ana's Nin Dashiell Hammett and J K Rowling Throughout his discussion Scholes emphasizes how concepts of genre affect the reading process and how they may work to exclude certain texts from the cultural canon and curriculum
