The Creation of Patriarchy: The creation of feminist consciousness Gerda Lerner, 1986 A major new work by a leading historian and pioneer in women's studies The Creation of Patriarchy is a radical reconceptualization of Western civilization that makes gender central to its analysis Gerda Lerner argues that male dominance over women is not natural or biological but the product of an historical development begun in the second millennium B C in the Ancient Near East As patriarchy as a system of organizing society was established historically she contends it can also be ended by the historical process Focusing on the contradiction between women's central role in creating society and their marginality in the meaning giving process of definition and interpretation Lerner explores such fascinating questions as What can account for women's exclusion from the historical process What could explain the long delay more than 3 500 years in women's coming to consciousness of their own subordinate position She goes back to the cultures of the earliest known civilizations those of the ancient Near East to discover the origins of the major gender metaphors of Western civilization Using historical literary archaeological and artistic evidence she then traces the development of these ideas symbols and metaphors and their incorporation into Western civilization as the basis of patriarchal gender relations Publisher description
