

Did you Know?

A new born baby girl is born with over 7 million egg cells (oocytes) in her ovaries.

Most of the oocytes gradually waste away, leaving about 1 to 2 million present at birth.

Between 16 and 20 weeks of pregnancy, the ovaries of a female fetus contain 6 to 7 million oocytes

Locating Chinese Women Kate Bagnall, Julia T. Martínez, 2021-03-23 This ground breaking edited collection draws together Australian historical scholarship on Chinese women their gendered migrations and their mobile lives between China and Australia It considers different aspects of women's lives both as individuals and as the wives and daughters of immigrant men While the number of Chinese women in Australia before 1950 was relatively small their presence was significant and often subject to public scrutiny Moving beyond traditional representations of women as hidden and silent this book demonstrates that Chinese Australian women in the twentieth century expressed themselves in the public eye whether through writings in photographs or in political and cultural life Their remarkable stories are often inspiring and sometimes tragic and serve to demonstrate the complexities of navigating female lives in the face of racial politics and imposed categories of gender culture and class Historians of transnational Chinese migration have come to recognize Australia as a crucial site within the Cantonese Pacific and this collection provides a new layer of gendered comparison connecting women's experiences in Australia with those in Canada the United States and New Zealand Locating Chinese Women is a path breaking book By exploring the experiences of Chinese Australian women during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the authors have opened new and compelling avenues of inquiry about the history of Chinese Australian women In this landmark work they have brilliantly recast the history of Chinese Australia Joy Damousi Australian Catholic University Locating Chinese Women breaks new ground in Australian and transnational Chinese women's history by making the lives of remarkable Chinese Australian women visible Photographs testimonies Chinese language newspapers and digitized archives help document the women's agency and activities as they navigate public lives between and within Australia and China during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Shirley Hune University of California Los Angeles and University of Washington

Women of ... , International , 1923 Immigrant Women in the U.S. Workforce Georges Vernez, 1999-01-01 This book represents a first effort to systematically describe the experience of immigrant women in the U S labor market over the past thirty years It may come as a surprise that the United States is currently home to more immigrant women than immigrant men However until this study was conducted the attention of analysts and policymakers has focused solely on the labor performance of immigrant men Georges Vernez's analysis of immigrant women's experience is the first to break this trend revealing a complex story that resists easy interpretation Some immigrant women succeed beyond all expectations while others struggle all their lives and have little to show for it In examining the myriad factors that contribute to the success and failure of immigrant women in the U S workforce this book provides a profile of their changing origin and characteristics describes what they do where they work and how they fare in the U S labor market and looks at the use they make of public services to support themselves
