His thematic framework and case study analysis have important implications for the study of developing world militaries and East Asian security. Roads and Rivals Mahnaz Ispahani, 2019-05-15

Over the past two centuries the borderlands of Central South and West Asia have been transformed from the remote peripheries into areas of intense regional and international interest. In Roads and Rivals Mahnaz Ispahani explores the crucial but unacknowledged role that land routes have played in the strategic political and economic evolution of those borderlands. Disarmament and Defence Industrial Adjustment in South Africa Peter G. Batchelor, Susan Willett, 1998

Peter Batchelor and Susan Willett analyse the response of the South African defence industry to drastic cuts in military expenditure and the demilitarization of society since the end of the cold war and apartheid and the stabilization of the regional security situation. The new ANC led government is seeking to use the resources released the peace dividend to restructure and revitalize the country's industrial base and to support reconstruction, development and redistribution. A lively debate on the country's security needs and strategic doctrine is under way. As in other countries, strategies of industrial diversification and conversion have met with limited success. In the absence hitherto of any coherent government policy on defence industrial adjustment, significant skills and technologies have been lost or wasted. This book provides a historical analysis of South Africa's unique opportunity to develop new and innovative policies on defence and security matters, the arms industry and arms exports, and makes a valuable contribution to the international debate on the relationship between disarmament and development. Military Industrialization and Economic Development Raimo Väyrynen, 1992

The book develops a framework for the analysis of the relationship between arms production and economic development in different types of economies and international conditions. The framework also includes relevant technological and organizational factors. The historical case studies include Japan and Great Britain before World War I and Brazil and the United States after World War II. International Affairs, 1988
